Poverty in Judgecraft: New Narratives through the Language of Equality – CORRIGENDUM

Sarah Ganty

Yale Law School, New Haven, Connecticut, USA and UCLouvain, Louvain-la-Neuve, Belgium

The author has informed us of the following corrections to the published article.

In Section II, the following sentence is inaccurate:

"The Court could have opted for a narrative that excluded such a myth—after all, social benefits were available in Sweden, Ms. Dano's country." (p. 175)

It should read:

"The Court could have opted for a narrative that excluded such a myth—especially if social benefits were available in Romania, Ms. Dano's country."

The reference in footnote 203 is incorrect.

The text containing the footnote reads:

"Considering that the "unemployment of a parent is already a factor that has a harmful impact on children," and that such restriction "makes their position even more difficult,"[203] the Committee insisted on the fact:" (p. 195)

The correct citation is:

203. Central Union for Child Welfare (CUCW) v. Finland, Complaint No. 139/2016, § 71 (Sept. 11, 2019), https://hudoc.esc.coe.int/.
