

For flights involving a step climb, separate measurements are made for each level.

Basic great-circle distances between terminals are listed in the route manual. Special techniques are used to find additional distance on composite routes.

This procedure is found to be considerably faster than flight planning by zones. Times on standard meridians are easily picked off the chart with reference to the plotted hour's runs, and corrected for extra climb time.

AUSTRALIAN INSTITUTE OF NAVIGATION

THE Australian Institute of Navigation announces the following Office Bearers and Council for 1957.

President

Mr. J. L. Cowan (Navigation Superintendent, QEA)

Vice-President

Rear-Admiral H. A. Showers, C.B.E., R.A.N. (Ret.)

Executive Secretary

Captain D. T. Bloxham (Association Secretary)

Technical Secretary

Mr. J. W. Newton (Navigation Officer, QEA)

Treasurer

Mr. J. B. Fitz-Gerald (Ship's Officer)

Members of Council

Mr. H. E. Edmonds (Inspector, Navigation Instruments)

Captain W. D. Heighway (School of Navigation, S.T.C.)

Captain J. W. Knowling (Senior Route Captain, QEA)

Mr. R. J. McConnell (Weather Officer, Mascot)

Mr. R. Meere (Dept. of Civil Aviation)

*Lt. P. Burnett, R.A.N.

*Wing Commander D. Sheppard, R.A.A.F.

Ex-Officio* representatives of the R.A.N. and R.A.A.F.