

EDITORS

This summer, after thirty-one years of distinguished service, Peter Walcot resigned as editor on what was for him a matter of principle. Ian McAuslan now becomes Senior Editor, with responsibility for the New Surveys in the Classics series. Two new editors have been appointed, Dr Katherine Clarke of St Hilda's College, Oxford and Dr Christopher Burnand of Tonbridge School. All submissions to the journal and all correspondence, other than that relating directly to the New Surveys series, should now be sent to Dr Clarke.
