The Division of Immunization, Centers for Disease Control (CDC) is seeking to fill the position of Chief of its Surveillance, Investigations and Research Branch. This branch is responsible for surveillance and investigations of measles, mumps, rubella, diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis, polio, varicella and adverse events following immunization. The Epidemiologic Research Section is responsible for large-scale and/or long-term research projects.

The incumbent will provide medical and epidemiologic expertise to aid the Immunization Practices Advisory Committee (ACIP) in making its recommendations; will oversee national surveillance, outbreak investigation, and control programs of vaccine-preventable diseases; and will supervise and direct development of study protocols and participate in data analysis and presentation of results of these studies. The incumbent directly supervises three section chiefs and an assistant to the chief and is responsible for a staff of 20 epidemiologists, two public health advisors and eight support staff.

Interested persons with an MD degree and training and experience in epidemiology should send curriculum vitae to the Personnel Management Office, Centers for Disease Control, Atlanta, GA 30333. For additional information contact Dr. Walter Orenstein (404) 639-1880.

Items of interest for the SHEA Newsletter should be sent to Robert A. Weinstein, MD, SHEA Newsletter Editor, Division of Infectious Diseases, Michael Reese Hospital, Lake Shore Drive at 31st St., Chicago, IL 60616. Copy must be typed, double-spaced and may not exceed five pages.
