SafetyNet

VERSION 2.01

Computerised Mental Health Information and Support System

✓ A low-cost, fully-featured system, designed to meet YOUR clinical needs

SafetyNet has been designed by psychiatrists for psychiatrists. Programmed by a psychiatrist and a professional programmer, it is a low-cost (non-profit-making), fully-featured mental health information system to meet the needs of multidisciplinary adult psychiatric services in the 1990's. It can be used on a single PC or a network, runs under either MS-DOS® or Unix/386Xenix®, and employs the most recent upgrade of dBase IV®, of which a runtime package is supplied with the MS-DOS version.

✓ Now available in MS-DOS and UNIX/386 Xenix versions

SafetyNet provides

- a comprehensive database with date and time archiving, readily adaptable to a wide variety of services and clinical needs;
- a simple and inexpensive development path for evolving services, using state-of-the-art, industry-standard components;
- easy data entry and retrieval, by means of standard and user-configured codes, extensive optional free-text areas, a wide choice of reports and ability to use a portable barcode reader.

✓ Easy upgrade path from single-user to network version using industry-standard components

SafetyNet is designed to promote the coordination of services, improvements in allocation of resources and the facilitation of research, within a framework of evolving policies for community-oriented mental health services and for medical audit, aftercare registration and resource management.

✓ Comprehensive data-entry, reporting, graphing and research facilities, configurable to your local requirements

SafetyNet Version 2.01 is now available, offering both DSM-III-R and ICD9 diagnoses, greatly enhanced reports and free-text entry (providing a complete alternative to written case-notes), and pop-up facilities including staff diaries, reminders, calculator, and manual. ICD10 is now being added, and further refinements, including an outpatient booking module and resource management functions, will shortly be available.

SafetyNet has charitable status and is administered by the Royal Free Hampstead NHS Trust Endowment Fund, Reg. No. XN60836. dBase IV is the registered trademark of Ashton Tate/Borland. MS-DOS and 386Xenix are registered trademarks of Microsoft Corp.
