

RENAISSANCE NEWS

PUBLISHED QUARTERLY BY THE RENAISSANCE SOCIETY OF AMERICA

Volume VII

Winter 1954

Number 4

Contents

Blame Not Wyatt's Lute, by John H. Long	127
The Royal Funeral in Renaissance France, by Ralph E. Giesey	130
Reviews
John Van Horne: E. H. Wilkins' History of Italian Literature	131
H. H. Blanchard: Allan H. Gilbert's translation of Ariosto's Orlando Furioso	133
Otto Gombosi: Gustave Reese's Music in the Renaissance	136
Wolfgang Stechow: de Tolnay's The Tomb of Julius II	140
Books Received	143
Publications of the Society	145
Library News	146
Conferences	151
The Advisory Council	154
Projects
The Committee on Microfilming Manuscript Catalogues, by B. L. Ullman, Chairman	156
A Neo-Latin Lexicon proposed by Paul W. Blackford	160
Renaissance Books
A List compiled by Ernst J. Schlochauer	162
News and Notes	169

RENAISSANCE NEWS

A QUARTERLY JOURNAL PUBLISHED BY THE RENAISSANCE SOCIETY
OF AMERICA · WITH THE ASSISTANCE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS
COPYRIGHT 1954 BY THE RENAISSANCE SOCIETY OF AMERICA

ACTING EDITOR: JOSEPHINE WATERS BENNETT

Associate Editors: ALBERT H. BUFORD AGNES MONGAN RAY NASH
WILLIAM PEERY FREDERICK W. STERNFELD

Editorial matter, including news, reviews, and articles for publication should be sent to Josephine Waters Bennett, 200 East 66th St., New York 21, N. Y.

Business communications, including advertisements, changes of address, orders for back numbers, etc., should be sent to Renaissance News, 1161 Amsterdam Avenue, New York 27, N. Y. For back numbers available, see RN VII, 20. Application for entry as second class matter is pending.

Beginning with Volume VIII (1955), Renaissance News will be available only to members of The Renaissance Society of America. Subscriptions which have already been accepted will be honored, but no further subscriptions will be sold. Libraries and institutions may become members of the Society at the regular rates.

Membership in the Society is open to anyone interested in the Renaissance. Dues are $25 for Patrons, $10 for Sustaining Members, and $4 for Regular Members. Checks together with applications for membership should be sent to The Renaissance Society of America, 1161 Amsterdam Avenue, New York 27, N. Y. Membership applications should include a 3x5 card giving your name (typed or printed), and mailing address, also institution, department, and title (or business address), and field of special interest.

All who join in 1954 will be considered Charter Members of the Society. They will be entitled to all publications of the Society printed for 1954, including 4 issues of Renaissance News, a Directory of Founders, and a volume of Studies in the Renaissance described in RN VII, 116-117.