

The Essential Codex Mendoza combines volumes 2 and 4 of the four-volume edition of The Codex Mendoza published by the University of California Press in 1992. That publication includes a collection of interpretations and appendices (volume 1), page-by-page descriptions of the codex (volume 3), a color facsimile of Codex Mendoza (volume 2), and parallel-image replicas of each pictorial folio with transcriptions and translations of the Spanish commentaries and translations of the Spanish glosses (volume 4). Volumes 2 and 4 thus provide, in detail, the basic pictorial and descriptive information contained in the original codex; these are the "essentials" that make up the paperback edition. With the exception of a few minor emendations, this current book reproduces the pages of these two 1992 volumes, plus sixteen color folios from the facsimile, volume 3.

At last, this paperback adaptation of THE CODEX MENDOZA places the most comprehensive, most extensively illustrated document of Aztec civilization within reach of a broad audience.

The Essential Codex Mendoza

Frances F. Berdan and Patricia Rieff Anawalt

"Endlessly fascinating. . . . A fine example of book design, printing, and production, a noble tribute to the Aztec artist who painted the great codex. . . . More than any other surviving Aztec artifact, this book makes you feel you know these people, have seen them smile."—NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW

"[This] new Codex Mendoza, while applying rigorous standards of scholarship and employing a bevy of the finest specialists in the field, can actually be read, understood and used by anybody with the desire to know more about the vanished world of Tenochtitlan and the Aztec empire, recorded by the last generation to know it before it fell."—ANTIQUITY

"Both the production standards and the intellectual quality of the commentary are so high that the book gives delight at all levels. . . . Anyone dipping into these volumes will learn to know the Aztecs as living people, not just as historical abstractions."—HISTORY TODAY

The Rabbit on the Face of the Moon Mythology in the Mesoamerican Tradition

Alfredo López Austin

Translated by Bernard Ortiz de Montellano
and Thelma Ortiz de Montellano

Spanning diverse subject matter—myths and names, eclipses, stars, left and right, México origins, Aztec incantations, the incorporation of Christian elements into the living mythologies of Mexico, and, of course, why there is a rabbit on the face of the moon—this book provides an accessible, entertaining look into a system of millennia-old legends and beliefs.

Ancient Mesoamerica

Instructions for Contributors

Ancient Mesoamerica will publish primarily in English, but will also feature contributions in Spanish. All papers will have Spanish (or English) summaries as a regular feature to enhance scholarly communication. When preparing your contribution, please remember that Ancient Mesoamerica unifies several different fields from archaeology to ethnohistory, art history and beyond. We also wish to reach nonspecialist readers. While some degree of technical language is often proper and necessary, jargon can always be avoided. Therefore, authors should strive for clear, lucid prose. The Editor will gladly discuss topics or contents of manuscripts prior to submission.

Manuscript Submission

Please submit 5 copies of the manuscript text and line drawings; colleagues with limited photocopying facilities may send only 1 copy. If photographs are included, only one set of original prints should be sent, along with 4 photocopies. Double-space the entire manuscript, including references and tables, with ample margins to permit editorial marking. The manuscript must be accompanied by a letter of transmittal stating that the work has not been published elsewhere, in whole or in part, nor is it under consideration for publication elsewhere. Papers may be submitted in Spanish or English. Artwork must be no larger than 24 square inches; artwork must be camera-ready and be securely packaged in a protective envelope. Mail manuscripts or make editorial inquiries to the Editorial Office (see inside cover for complete information).

Peer Review Procedures

Each contribution will be reviewed by at least three, and some times as many as five, outside readers who will make recommendations to the Editors concerning revision of the manuscript, acceptance or rejection. The reviewers' anonymous comments will be passed on to the authors.

Categories of Papers

(a) Full articles are longer contributions of general interest that are 25–30 double-spaced manuscript pages in length, including references; (b) reports are shorter contributions of about 15–20 pages in length focusing on important finds, reinterpretations, comments, and so on. The Editors or a Guest Editor will occasionally assemble a special section of related reports; and (c) notes are newsworthy items of a very short length.

Editorial and Reference Style

In general, follow American Antiquity style. An abstract of 150 words or less and a longer summary of the paper in Spanish should be included. Footnotes may be used, but only if deemed absolutely necessary; they should be numbered consecutively and collected at the end of the text. The order of manuscript elements should be as follows: title page, abstracts pages, main text, Spanish summary, acknowledgments, footnotes, references, tables, and figures (line drawings and photographs in a protective envelope). Tables and figures should be numbered consecutively using Arabic numerals. Sample references:

Illustrations

All figures must be camera-ready and be of professional quality. Please send oversize artwork for reduction to size or high-contrast photostats already reduced to exact size. Please allow for reduction when judging type size for captions. Put scales on the figures, not in legends.

Electronic Input

After a contribution is accepted, the Editors will ask the author to submit the article on a floppy disk, if possible. When doing so, please specify the type of computer used, the operating system, and program (e.g., IBM-PC, PC-DOS, WordPerfect). The electronic manuscript should be limited to standard ASCII characters, with two returns between all text elements, with two returns between each paragraph and reference, and with all lines beginning flush left. Omit formatting codes for indenting, centering, etc. If you do not use a word processor, your manuscript will be typeset in the traditional manner.

Copyright and Offprints Policy

Contributors must complete the Transfer of Copyright Agreement form, available from the Editors, before their paper can be transmitted for production. The lead author of each article or report will receive 25 free offprints from the Publisher, with the opportunity to purchase additional offprints and complete copies of the issue at favorable rates.
