God's Peoples

Covenant and Land in South Africa, Israel, and Ulster

DONALD HARMAN AKENSON

"Superb."—Library Journal. "Splendidly illuminating and enthrallingly readable."—Conor Cruise O'Brien. Asserting that the dominant peoples of South Africa, Northern Ireland, and Israel have based their cultural identity on a belief in a covenant with an all-powerful God, Akenson vividly chronicles the effects of this conviction on each nation's history. $29.95

"Be Fertile and Increase, Fill the Earth and Master It"

The Ancient and Medieval Career of a Biblical Text

JEREMY COHEN

New in Paper! Winner of the American Catholic Historical Association's 1990 John Gilmary Shea Prize. "Cohen . . . here undertakes a systematic survey of biblical and later Jewish and Christian usages and interpretations of Gen 1:28. . . . The result is eminently successful, indeed, masterful. It should be of interest not only to biblical scholars but also to church historians and teachers of comparative religion."—Catholic Biblical Quarterly. $16.95

The Apocalypse in the Middle Ages

EDITED BY RICHARD K. EMMERSON AND BERNARD MCGINN

This richly interdisciplinary collection of seventeen essays offers an overview of the influence of the Apocalypse on the shaping of the Christian culture of the Middle Ages. $48.50 cloth, $19.95 paper

The Counter-Reformation in the Villages

Religion and Reform in the Bishopric of Speyer, 1560–1720

MARC R. FORSTER

Forster reconstructs and analyzes the history of the Catholic Counter-Reformation in the Bishopric of Speyer from the later sixteenth to the early eighteenth century. $37.50

The Peace of God

Social Violence and Religious Response in France around the Year 1000

EDITED BY THOMAS HEAD AND RICHARD LANDES

During the dissolution of the former Carolingian Empire, warfare and plunder went unchecked. An innovative response to this violence was the Church-led initiative known as the Peace of God, perhaps history's earliest mass peace movement. In the thirteen essays collected here, leading scholars consider key aspects of the movement and episodes in its history. $44.95 cloth, $17.95 paper

The Salzburg Transaction

Expulsion and Redemption in Eighteenth-Century Germany

MACK WALKER

In 1731–32 the archbishopric of Salzburg expelled about 20,000 Protestant farmers from the alpine districts above the city. The episode provoked a sharp confessional confrontation that threatened to destroy the political equilibrium of the Holy Roman Empire. In this elegant book Walker provides the most complete available account of the expulsion. $34.95

The new standard biography

MARTIN LUTHER

by MARTIN BRECHT

Translated by James L. Schaaf

Vol. 1 His Road to Reformation: 1483-1521

Contrasts the theological perspectives of earlier biographies with the results of more modern research into Luther’s life and time. 1992 Choice Outstanding Academic Book 592pp $41.95 cloth

Vol. 2 Shaping and Defining the Reformation: 1521-1532

“Brecht’s scholarship is impeccable. . . He displays a remarkable talent for precision and conciseness. . .”—DAVID W. LOTZ* 544pp $41.95 cloth

Just published—

Vol. 3 The Preservation of the Church: 1532-1546

Brecht here describes in depth the final fourteen years of Luther’s life, a period often treated briefly in Luther biographies. Because some Reformation developments continued without him, his Catholic opponents paid only partial attention to him and his personality displays great tensions, along with errors in judgment. 544pp $41.95 cloth

“Brecht [is now] the standard biographical reference. . .”

NEW BOOKS FROM HARVARD

Athanasius and Constantius

Theology and Politics in the Constantinian Empire
Timothy D. Barnes

In this new reconstruction of Athanasius' career, Timothy Barnes analyzes the nature and extent of the Bishop's power, especially as it intersected with the policies of these emperors Constantine, Constantius, Julian the Apostate, and "Arian" Valens. The life and writings of this combative figure—so central to the political struggles, theological controversies, and ecclesiastic developments of the fourth century—constitute an important chapter in the history of the early Christian church and the late Roman Empire.

In Face of Mystery

A Constructive Theology
Gordon D. Kaufman

In the symbolic world of Christianity, is there room for today's real world of cultural relativism and religious pluralism, of scientific knowledge and historical understanding? In Face of Mystery draws these two worlds together in a full-scale reconception of Christian theology. Firmly embedded in physical and social science and in the tradition of American pragmatism, this thorough reconception of a Christian worldview offers insight into the most basic questions confronting humanity today—questions of value, meaning, and self-identity.

The Making of Late Antiquity

Peter Brown

"The Making of Late Antiquity is most successful, I think, as a study of shifts in the religious imagination ... Brown is sensitive to the multifaceted quality of the Late Antique view of the soul... From the private dreams of Aristides to the public withdrawal of Anthony, Brown has sketched a remarkable shift in a culture's vision of itself. His argument is as persuasive as it is eloquent." —Church History

Righteous Discontent

The Women's Movement in the Black Baptist Church, 1880–1920
Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham

Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham gives us our first full account of the crucial role of black women in making the church a powerful institution for social and political change in the black community. She depicts the cooperation, tension, and negotiation that characterized the relationship between men and women church leaders as well as the interaction of southern black and northern white women's groups. It is central to an understanding of African American social and cultural life and a critical chapter in the history of religion in America.

When Time Shall Be No More

Prophecy Belief in Modern American Culture
Paul Boyer

"[This book] offers a thoughtful, and thought-provoking, exploration of contemporary religious apocalyptic, placing it in a long historical perspective and tracing its influence on social and political thought. It covers ground that has been strangely neglected by scholars."

—A.G. Mojtabai. Boston Sunday Globe

"[Boyer's] book is a splendid, rigorously documented treatise... No book provides more comprehensive information about the awesome degree to which Biblical literalism and prophetic fervor have invaded the hearts and minds of Americans, rich and poor, educated and ignorant."

“Penetrating analyses of the strengths and weaknesses of Christian social witness in this century.”

— GABRIEL FACKRE

“A fruitful cross-disciplinary collection of essays by Christian ethicists and church historians, this volume casts much light on the backgrounds and contemporary expressions of a number of alternative positions on what the public role of major churches and ecumenical agencies has been, is, and should be.”
