

Institution of Aeronautical Engineers.

JOURNAL

Editorial.

Unfortunately, the terms of amalgamation between the Royal Aeronautical Society and this Institution have not yet been finally agreed upon, and joint conferences are still proceeding, which it is hoped will shortly be brought to a successful conclusion

Notices to Members.

Visits

Since the last issue of the Journal the session has been brought to a close by interesting visits to the National Physical Laboratory and Croydon Aerodrome, the latter by courtesy of Messrs Imperial Airways Limited

Application

Corporal O S J Burrows, of the Central Flying School, Wittering, Northants
