New China

Brings to life the history, achievements, and struggles of The People's Republic of China. Colorful, award-winning graphics and design and lively articles present a wide range of perspectives in answering the questions a growing number of Americans ask.

In Past Issues:

- Chou En-lai described, in vivid terms, the differences between right and ultra-left in the heat of the Cultural Revolution.
- Residents in China gave eye-witness accounts of present political campaigns.
- Paul Lin examined the issues involved in recognition of One China.
- A West Virginia Coal miner's daughter related her impressions of conditions in the mines of Fushun.
- "Friendship Has A History" highlighted the contributions of long time friends of China; Agnes Smedley, Ida Pruitt, Paul Robeson.

The Spring Issue:

Americans Remember Mao

Eight personal meetings

Work, Study; Work, Study – David Crook

Who goes to college and why

Muddy but Unbowed – Pat and Roger Howard

People change the course of a river

The Silk Workers – Agnes Smedley

Critical Choices for Americans

Critical Choices for Americans, a fourteen-volume work on urgent problems that face the United States and the world at the beginning of America's third century, will appear through 1976 and into 1977 under the imprint of Lexington Books.

A wide range of subjects is covered including: energy, the environment, and economics; population, food, and land use; raw materials; criminal justice and the law; education; and foreign relations and national defense. A major portion of the work concerns ideas about America, extensive analyses of different regions of the world, and the quality of life of communities and individuals.

The Commission on Critical Choices for Americans, brought together by Nelson A. Rockefeller in 1973, commissioned 128 of the best minds in the world to highlight alternatives facing America. Their subjects include energy, the environment, population, food, land use, criminal justice, education, defense, and extensive analyses of regions of the world.

About the series in general, TIME Magazine said:

"NEW STARTS FOR AMERICA'S THIRD CENTURY . . . What emerges from these essays is the sense that in nearly every important field, ideas that dominated for half a century or more are giving way. New notions are being pursued and older ideas, discarded earlier in the 20th century, are being re-examined . . . Different though the various views of human nature may be, the very use of the term implies that there is something permanent and irreducible in man and that his resistance to outside manipulation is a kind of triumph."

John King Fairbank

INTRODUCES

CHINA

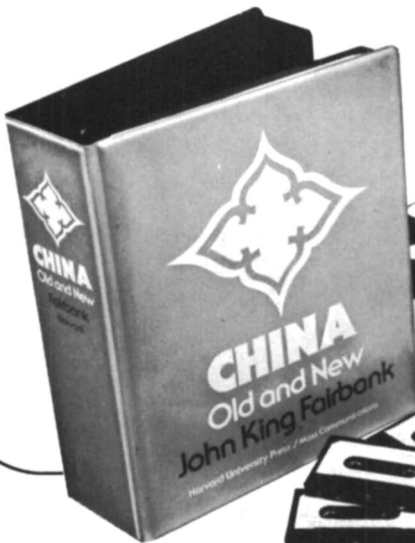

- home of nearly one quarter of mankind
- land of ancient traditions
- scene of the greatest revolution of this century
- a leading world power . . .

and, to most Americans, an enigma. But now Professor John King Fairbank has created CHINA OLD AND NEW, a series of fifteen color filmstrips that form a masterful introduction to China. Drawing upon an important collection of rare visual materials and narrating with the wit and insight that have made him a famous teacher, he shows us all of China: its people, land, history, and culture.

CHINA OLD AND NEW is many Chinas. We see China in dynastic times, China under western domination, China in upheaval, and China today. Fairbank's analysis is sympathetic and scholarly, his achievement large: here is the Chinese past that has shaped the present China.

CHINA OLD AND NEW is a complete visual introduction to a nation that is almost a world. Indispensable to schools, colleges, libraries, and businesses. For more information and a free descriptive brochure write to:

Independence and Volunteer Forces in World War II

JOYCE C. LEBRA

The training in World War II of independence and volunteer armies in several nations of Southeast Asia by the Imperial Japanese Army is discussed in this significant work. The first study of its kind by a Western scholar, it shows how this Japanese military imprinting affected a whole generation of leadership of nations of postwar Southeast Asia. $15.00

A SEASON OF THE EARTH

Selected Poems of Nirala

DAVID RUBIN, Translator

The work of the modern Indian poet Nirala, recognized as the finest of the new literary Hindi, is contained in this unique volume. Selected on the basis of their accessibility to the Western reader, the poems reveal a sensibility that successfully combined traditional Hindu culture and modern ideas of social reform along with the revelation of personal suffering to create a troubling and original vision. cloth, $12.50; paper, $4.00

The British in Bengal in the Eighteenth Century

P.J. MARSHALL. This study of the pursuit of wealth by Englishmen in Bengal, the first large area of the Indian subcontinent to come under British control, is both an investigation of the legends which have evolved about the eighteenth-century "Nabobs" and an examination of the role of personal ambition in the process of British commercial and political expansion as a whole.

Cultivators and Administrators

British Educational Policy Towards the Malays 1875-1906

REX STEVENSON. During the first thirty years of their rule in the Malay State, the British established an educational system, the outline and contents of which were to remain basically the same throughout the greater part of their administration in Malaysia. This study traces the origins and development of that system as it affected and was directed toward the Malays. (East Asian Historical Monographs)

Anglo-Indian Education

A Study of its Origins and Growth in Bengal up to 1960

AUSTIN A. D'SOUZA. This in-depth social and historical account shows the motivations and compulsions that produced the Anglo-Indian school system in Bengal, the forces that shaped it, and the features that make it one of the most effective models for modern education in India. The author evaluates the features that distinguish Anglo-Indian education from that of government schools and Indian public schools.

A MERIDIAN

PAPERBACK

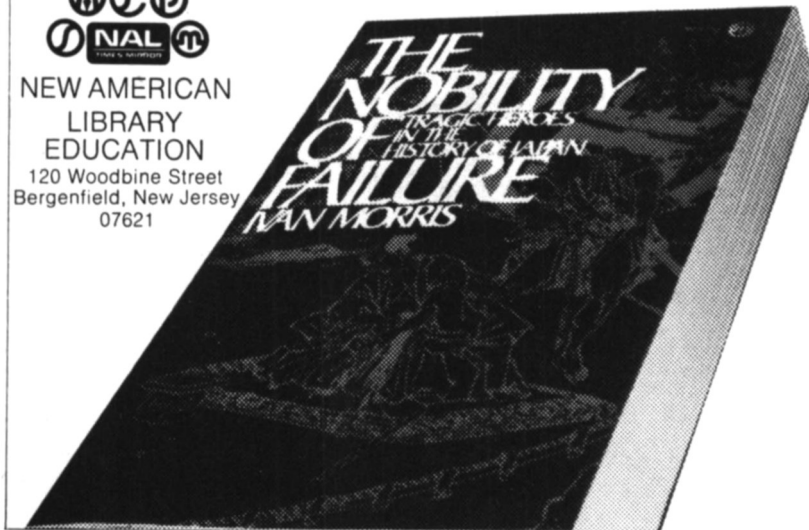

Heroes without compromise

Sympathy with courageous losers—men and women whose causes haven't triumphed—has deep roots among the Japanese; they recognize a special nobility in sincere sacrifice. In The Nobility of Failure, the late distinguished Asian scholar Ivan Morris relates the fateful lives of nine of these tragic figures—"heroes as losers"—including a fourth-century prince, an outlaw samurai, and a desperate World War II kamikaze pilot, to reveal vast resources of courage crushed by overwhelming odds. Why each of these men chose the dignity of defeat, exile, or ritual suicide is brilliantly illuminated through the author's sensitivity to and fascination with Japan's heroic tradition. "An amazing exploration of the Japanese soul!"—Shirley Hazzard. "Extraordinarily interesting and stimulating. . . I can warmly recommend it to anyone who is seriously interested in understanding the complexity of the human mind."—Erich Fromm.

A COLLECTION OF FAMOUS CHINESE PAINTINGS: T'ANG, SUNG, YUAN & MING DYNASTIES

Selected Edition (特輯本) Two 54 x 39 cm Volumes $95.00
(Includes t'ao case and postage)

The T'ang, Sung, Yüan, and Ming are regarded as the most flourishing periods of Chinese paintings. These two huge newspaper-size volumes are based on a special catalog for an exhibition of 614 Chinese paintings of these periods held in Tokyo in 1928 to commemorate the ascent to the throne of Emperor Hirohito. In addition to the two hundred paintings reproduced in the original exhibition catalog, eleven reproductions of other Chinese paintings from these periods held in various museums in mainland China and in our own collection are also contained. Some of the artists represented are Yen Le-pen 閻立本 of the T'ang period, Kuan Hsiu 貫休 of the Five Dynasties, Emperor Hui-tsung 徽宗皇帝 and Hsiü Tao-ning 許道寧 of the Sung, Wang Mien 王冕 and Jen Yueh-shan 任月山 of the Yüan, and T'ang Yin 唐寅 and Ch'ou Ying 仇英 of the Ming.

Supplementary Edition (續足本) Two 23 x 33 cm Volumes $20.00

THE NAMAHAJE: A FESTIVAL IN THE NORTHEAST OF JAPAN

The Namahaje is the first full-length study in English of a masked New Year's festival of Japan. The author examines the ritual's importance to village society and offers explanations for the tenacity of this folk drama in the face of the pressures of modernization. The book is of special value to those interested in ritual and dramaturgy.

THE MASKED DANCE

The Masked Dance is the story of the now-deposed Prime Minister of Thailand, Kukrit Pramoj. Kukrit himself is a master of Thai masked dancing—and it was the mask of power he feigned in politics that enabled him to survive with a minority party in a coalition government, and to lead his country through its first year of real democracy after 25 years of military rule. Though no one knows just what will happen to the nation now, The Masked Dance is a brilliant portrayal of the forces at work. "A lively, informative view of [Thailand's] complicated political antics" (Rosalie Horner).
