

NEW BOOKS FROM

PENGUIN GROUP

ROB SPILLMAN, EDITOR
GODS AND SOLDIERS

The Penguin Anthology
of Contemporary African Writing

With stories from northern Arabic-speaking to southern Zulu-speaking writers, this collection conveys thirty different ways of approaching what it means to be African.

Penguin • 336 pp. • 978-0-14-311473-4 • $16.00

JOHN CARLIN
PLAYING THE ENEMY

Nelson Mandela and the Game That Made a Nation

"This wonderful book describes Mandela's methodical, improbable and brilliant campaign to reconcile resentful blacks and fearful whites around a sporting event, a game of rugby."

—The New York Times Book Review.

Penguin • 288 pp. • 978-0-14-311572-4 • $16.00

HEIDI HOLLAND
DINNER WITH MUGABE
The Untold Story of a Freedom
Fighter Who Became a Tyrant

Holland's incisive and timely investigation charts Mugabe's gradual self-destruction and probes the mystery of Africa's loyalty to one of its worst dictators. "The most intimate portrait yet produced of Zimbabwe's clever yet brutal leader."

—The Economist.

Penguin • 284 pp. • 978-0-14-302618-1 • $16.00

RUTH FIRST
117 DAYS

Introduction by Angela Y. Davis

An unforgettable account of defiance against political terror by one of South Africa's pioneering anti-apartheid activists. "[Ruth First's] life, and her death, remains a beacon to all who love liberty."—Nelson Mandela.

Penguin Classics • 176 pp. • 978-0-14-310574-9 • $14.00

BERNARDINE EVARISTO
BLONDE ROOTS

A provocative story that reverses the history of the transatlantic slave trade and imagines a world where Africans have enslaved Europeans. "A riotous, bitter course in the arbitrary nature of our cultural values."—Washington Post Book World.

Riverhead • 288 pp. • 978-1-59448-434-6 • $15.00

MICHELLE GOLDBERG
THE MEANS OF REPRODUCTION
Sex, Power, and the Future of the World

"We know how to radically improve women's lives around the world: give them education, power, and the liberty to control their own bodies.... Goldberg's sweeping saga about how this consensus came about, and the tragic impediments to putting it into practice, may be the most important book you'll ever read about the future of the human race."—Rick Perlstein, author of Nixonland.

Penguin • 272 pp. • 978-014-311688-2 • $16.00

Editors

Richard Wall, University of Essex, UK
Lloyd Bonfield, Tulane Law School, USA
Phillipp Schofield, University of Wales, Aberystwyth, UK

Continuity and Change aims to define a field of historical sociology concerned with long-term continuities and discontinuities in the structures of past societies. Articles combine elements from areas such as history, law, economics or anthropology. Comparative studies over a broad range of cultures and time spans are encouraged.

Editor

Christopher Clapham, University of Cambridge, UK

The Journal of Modern African Studies surveys developments in modern African politics and society. Its main emphasis is on current issues in African politics, economies, societies and international relations. Editorial policy avoids commitment to any political viewpoint or ideology, but aims at a fair examination of controversial issues.

This important journal serves as a focal point and forum for scholarship on intellectual and cultural history from the mid-seventeenth century to the present, with primary attention to Europe and the Americas and to transnational developments that encompass the non-West. Modern Intellectual History enquires into this era's intellectual discourses and texts, their ontological origins and reception, and the recovery of their historical meanings.

Journal of Global History addresses the main problems of global change over time, together with the diverse histories of globalization. It will also examine counter-currents to globalization, including those that have structured other spatial units. The journal will seek to transcend the dichotomy between 'the West and the rest', straddle traditional regional boundaries, relate material to cultural and political history, and overcome thematic fragmentation in historiography.

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

The Journal of African History publishes research and reviews on all aspects of the African past. Contributors should keep in mind that they are writing for an academic readership generally knowledgeable about African history, and should relate their findings explicitly to relevant secondary literature.

Authors may submit contributions in either English or French. They should not exceed 10,000 words (including notes), except with prior approval of the editors. Where appropriate, carefully drawn maps, photographs, and other illustrations may accompany the text. An abstract of the contents of the article, not exceeding about 100 words, should be included at the head of the main text immediately after the title.

Contributors should seek clarity, brevity, and simplicity of expression and avoid long sentences and unduly lengthy or short paragraphs. They should closely observe the conventions set out below ('Format and Style') and in the more detailed 'Instructions for Contributors' to be found as a link on the journal's online submission webpage.

Article manuscripts should be submitted for publication through the following webpage: <http://journals.cambridge.org/AFH_Manuscript_Submission>. If, for some reason, it is not possible to upload a submission to this webpage, it may be sent as an e-mail attachment to jafricanhistory@cambridge.org.

When a manuscript has been accepted for publication, and after typesetting, page proofs will be sent to each contributor. Corrections must be kept to a minimum: they should not include new material. Contributors should be prepared to return corrected proofs promptly. Authors of articles and review articles receive 25 free offprints and may purchase additional copies, provided that they order before publication on the form sent out with proofs.

Format and Style

Article manuscripts should be submitted electronically, through the webpage listed above. They should be in a widely used word-processing format, preferably MS Word, and double-spaced throughout. Lines beginning new paragraphs should be indented, except at the beginning of a section. Ample margins (at least one inch left and right, one and one-half inches top and bottom) must be left, and all pages should be numbered.

Spelling (in English) may follow either British or American convention but must be consistent. African words and names should conform to the orthography of the International African Institute. In referring to people, Bantu prefixes should normally be omitted: thus 'Luganda', 'Buganda', but 'a Ganda', 'the Ganda'. Quotations of more than forty words or so should begin on a new line, indented from the left-hand margin.

Italics should be used only for the names of publications and for words in languages other than English. Foreign words should be used only when necessary, and then only with a translation in parentheses. Figures should be used for units of measurement, percentages (to be shown in the form '7 per cent', not '7%'), and any number which includes a decimal point. Spell out other numbers up to ten and multiples of ten up to one hundred ('seven', 'twenty', but '25', '127' and '10,000'). Cite dates in the form '12 February 1968' (or 'Feb.' in source-references). Express sequences in the briefest form possible ('68-9', but '1911-12', '1849-50').

Notes should be footnotes not endnotes. They should be numbered consecutively throughout the article and double-spaced. Citations of references should be made only in the notes and not in the text, and there should be no separate bibliography. First references should be given in full, thus: S. Johnson, The History of the Yorubas (Lagos, 1921); E. W. Smith, 'Sebetwane and the Makololo', African Studies, 15 (1956), 49-74. All subsequent references should be given in abbreviated form, thus: Johnson, History, 43; Smith, 'Sebetwane', 65, except that ibid. should be used to refer to an immediately preceding citation of a title. Loc. cit. and op. cit. should not be used. Do not abbreviate periodical titles. Archival citations should be as brief as is consistent with clarity. The identity and location of each archive must be fully spelled out where it is first cited.

Maps should be prepared where the topography is important for an understanding of the text. Maps should if possible be camera-ready and show all relevant information, but only such information as is mentioned in the text. Photographs should specifically enhance the text and carry full captions and attributions.
