Politics from Princeton

The Politics of Happiness

What Government Can Learn from the New Research on Well-Being

Derek Bok

“Bok provides a lucid analysis of scientific research on human happiness, and shows how it can and should be used to shape social policy. The breadth of his knowledge is matched only by the depth of his insight. There is not a word in this book to be missed.”

—Daniel Gilbert, author of Stumbling on Happiness

Cloth $24.95 978-0-691-14489-4

Not Even Past

Barack Obama and the Burden of Race
Thomas J. Sugrue

“In this brilliant work of contemporary history, Thomas Sugrue vividly reconstructs the America in which Barack Obama came of age and expertly probes the varied political and intellectual influences that have shaped our president’s thinking about race and civil rights. No one has written about the complexities of racial politics nor Obama’s racial compromises with more skill, insight, or erudition. A powerful and sobering book.”

—Gary Gerstle, author of American Crucible

The Lawrence Stone Lectures

Cloth $24.95 978-0-691-13730-8 May

Democracy Incorporated

Managed Democracy and the Specter of Inverted Totalitarianism

Sheldon S. Wolin

With a new preface by the author

“[Democracy Incorporated provides] a rare, chilling analysis of intellectual critics of democracy. If democracy means more than occasional elections and protection of those rights that are compatible with economic and political elites’ interests, Wolin’s analysis of our democratic predicament is shocking, solid, and fundamentally correct.”

—C. P. Waligorski, Choice

Paper $19.95 978-0-691-14589-1

How Enemies Become Friends

The Sources of Stable Peace

Charles A. Kupchan

“Kupchan’s book is fascinating, thought provoking, and consequential.”

—Henry Kissinger

“An invaluable and timely contribution to our understanding of the causes of war and peace.”

—Michael Barnett, University of Minnesota

Princeton Studies in International History and Politics
G. John Ikenberry & Marc Trachtenberg, Series Editors
A Council on Foreign Relations Book

Cloth $29.95 978-0-691-14265-4

Numbers Rule

The Vexing Mathematics of Democracy, from Plato to the Present

George G. Szpiro

“Which candidate is the people’s choice? It’s a simple question, and the answer is anything but. In Numbers Rule, George Szpiro tells the amazing story of the search for the fairest way of voting, deftly blending history, biography, and political skulduggery. Everyone interested in our too-fallible elections should read this book.”

—William Poundstone, author of Gaming the Vote

Cloth $26.95 978-0-691-13994-4

Climate Change Justice

Eric A. Posner & David Weisbach

“Taking a clear, unflinching, and rigorous approach, this book pierces simplistic views of climate change justice, and makes a strong case for addressing climate change and justice separately. It will change the debate.”

—Michael P. Vandenbergh, director of the Climate Change Research Network

Cloth $27.95 978-0-691-13775-9 April

New Faces, New Voices

The Hispanic Electorate in America
*Marisa A. Abrajano &
R. Michael Alvarez*

“This innovative book deals with a large and understudied area: Latino political behavior. Its argument regarding the diversity of the Latino community is important and the authors’ attention to generational differences in the community is a rarity. Significant and original, this book covers more ground than any other work on the subject.”

—Lisa García Bedolla, University of California, Berkeley

Cloth $27.95 978-0-691-14305-7

Who Cares?

Public Ambivalence and Government Activism from the New Deal to the Second Gilded Age

*Katherine S. Newman &
Elisabeth S. Jacobs*

“Earth to Obama: Read this book, then come out fighting—for the people who have no other champion but a courageous President.”

—Bill Moyers

Cloth $26.95 978-0-691-13563-2

The Rise of the Conservative Legal Movement

The Battle for Control of the Law
Steven M. Teles

“The Rise of the Conservative Legal Movement provides an essential road map to the organizational mobilization of conservatives over the past quarter century.”

—Al Gore, coreipient of the 2007 Nobel Peace Prize

Princeton Studies in American Politics: Historical, International, and Comparative Perspectives
Ira Katznelson, Martin Shefter, & Theda Skocpol,
Series Editors

Paper $24.95 978-0-691-14625-6

Unequal Democracy

The Political Economy of the New Gilded Age

Larry M. Bartels

“The non-partisan and non-political Bartels points out devastatingly after an exhaustive study of Democratic and Republican presidents that the Democrats built a better economy and a more just society.”

—James Carville, CNN

Paper $22.95 978-0-691-14623-2

Copublished with the Russell Sage Foundation

With a new preface by the authors

Why Not Kill Them All?

The Logic and Prevention of Mass Political Murder

Daniel Chirot & Clark McCauley

“Why Not Kill Them All is an erudite intellectual achievement that synthesizes extant knowledge and adds to the surprisingly scarce literature on this topic. . . . [Chirot and McCauley] provide a breathtaking historical overview.”

—Juan Díez Medrano, American Journal of Sociology

Paper $19.95 978-0-691-14594-5

Electronic Elections

The Perils and Promises of Digital Democracy

R. Michael Alvarez & Thad E. Hall

“Will the machine lose your vote? Will it be hacked? . . . Alvarez and Hall provide a rigorous analysis of electronic voting, and they come down heavily in favor of the benefits of the new technologies.”

—Michelle Press, Scientific American

Paper $19.95 978-0-691-14622-5

Politics from Princeton

Untying the Knot

Marriage, the State, and the Case for Their Divorce

Tamara Metz

“In clear and jargon-free writing, Tamara Metz makes a persuasive case for the separation of marriage and the state. Readers who pick up this book to inform themselves about the same-sex marriage debate will be led to wonder why the state involves itself in marriage at all.”

—Shelley Burtt, author of Virtue Transformed

Cloth $27.95 978-0-691-12667-8

Working Together

Collective Action, the Commons, and Multiple Methods in Practice

Amy R. Poteete, Marco A. Janssen & Elinor Ostrom

“This remarkable book ties multiple complex themes into a balanced whole. Well-argued, it emphasizes the science in social science and illustrates that carefully designed research questions, tested and extended through the use of multiple methods, lead to the culmination of knowledge.”

—Edella Schlager, University of Arizona

Paper $29.95 978-0-691-14604-1

Cloth $75.00 978-0-691-14603-4 May

War Stories

The Causes and Consequences of Public Views of War

Matthew A. Baum & Tim J. Groeling

“Baum and Groeling have produced a credible, comprehensive, and consistent analysis of why journalists cover foreign policy in a skewed fashion and how this ultimately affects public opinion about conflicts such as the Iraq war.”

—James T. Hamilton, Duke University

Paper $26.95 978-0-691-13859-6

Cloth $70.00 978-0-691-13858-9

Capital Ideas

The IMF and the Rise of Financial Liberalization

Jeffrey M. Chwieroth

“This is a fascinating and important book that every student of the International Monetary Fund should read and absorb. Chwieroth buttresses his argument with impressive interview and archival research and poses a serious challenge to previous scholarship about the liberalization of global finance.”

—Randall Stone, University of Rochester

Paper $29.95 978-0-691-14232-6

Cloth $75.00 978-0-691-14231-9

Forbidden Fruit

Counterfactuals and International Relations

Richard Ned Lebow

“Forbidden Fruit is the kind of border-busting book that takes scholars to places they would otherwise never find, let alone inhabit. Some of those places are well outside our comfort zones, so be prepared to be infuriated. Then get over it. Forbidden Fruit will help you become more creative, self-aware, and careful, and in doing so it will make you a better social scientist.”

—Colin Elman, Maxwell School of Syracuse University

Paper $27.95 978-0-691-13290-7

Cloth $60.00 978-0-691-13289-1

Reputation and Power

Organizational Image and Pharmaceutical Regulation at the FDA

Daniel Carpenter

“In this truly splendid, magisterial study, Carpenter thoroughly documents and narrates the FDA's struggle with the certainties of science, the uncertainties of politics, and the requirements of reputation.”

—Richard Bense, Cornell University

eJobs: Your Online Resource for Political Science Careers and Candidates

APSA's eJobs is a year-round, online resource for political science employment opportunities and job candidates. It contains the most comprehensive online database of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent listings.

How Does eJobs Work?

Job Candidates

APSA members can access all open job listings and post their resume online to share with prospective employers by logging in to www.apsanet.org with your MyAPSA member login. The service is free to and offered exclusively to APSA members. Only APSA members can access the job listings or post their resumes to share with prospective employers. We encourage non-members who are interested in the service to join APSA now.

Employers

Employers who are APSA Departmental Services Program (DSP) members may post an unlimited number of job listings to share with prospective candidates and may search the all available resumes free of charge. Employers who are not DSP members may advertise positions for a fee. Non-member employers who have posted a job listing can also access the candidate resumes.

Member and non-member employers can access eJobs by logging in to www.apsanet.org with their DSP login. Non-member employers: for more information on the DSP, contact dsp@apsanet.org.

Printed Job Listings in the PS: Political Science and Politics Supplement

APSA prints eJobs job listings in a supplement to the APSA journal PS: Political Science & Politics. The supplement accompanies PS each quarter (January, April, July and October) and includes job listings, upcoming conferences, tables of contents of forthcoming APSA journals, and other news in the profession. The print listing is free of charge to employers who post job listings on eJobs.

APSA Membership Opens Doors Take Advantage of the Value of APSA Membership

As the the oldest, largest, and most comprehensive political science society in the world, APSA supports over 14,000 members in 70 countries and advances
political science
in many ways.

Open the door
to your future.
Become an APSA member!

Offering Online Scholarship

Scholarship is central to APSA membership. Current and recent back issues of all three APSA journals are available online to members through Cambridge Journals Online. Members can also gain access to the full historical collection through JSTOR subscriptions. Political Research Online (PROL), a collaborative project led by APSA and a consortium of political science and related associations, houses 30,000 searchable conference papers.

Creating Networks and Connecting Scholars

APSA strives to provide valuable opportunities for members to network with colleagues, share ideas, and form relationships to drive their careers. Members receive discounts for APSA conferences—the Teaching and Learning Conference, Conference for Chairs, and the Annual Meeting—as well as access to the association's Organized Sections.

Providing Career and Employment Resources

APSA's eJobs is the most comprehensive online resource of political science employment opportunities and job candidates. It is fully searchable and updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes. The eJobs placement service at the Annual Meeting brings employers and candidates together in person to greatly facilitate the hiring process.

Supporting Political Science Research

The Centennial Center for Political Science & Public Affairs, located at APSA's headquarters building, provides office space for scholars and students conducting field work in Washington, D.C. Through the Center, APSA also offers a number of research grant opportunities for scholars working in various sub fields.

Centennial Center for Political Science & Public Affairs Research Opportunities in Washington, D.C.

I enjoyed my stay in Washington D.C. immensely, and the high quality facilities and friendly staff at the Centennial Center made it a great base from which to conduct my fieldwork. I found the facilities to be well located making it easy to travel to my interviews and use the National Security Archive at GWU. Coming to Washington as an international scholar, I found it helpful when securing key interviews to have the support of such a respected organization.

-Emma Briant, University of Glasgow

Created in celebration of the American Political Science Association centennial, the Centennial Center for Political Science and Public Affairs encourages research, writing, and collaboration among scholars working within the discipline.

The Center, located in Association headquarters in D.C., assists scholars from the United States and abroad whose research and teaching could benefit from a stay in and access to the incomparable resources in the nation's capital. The Center has space for ten visiting scholars for extended periods of time ranging from a few weeks to a year.

The Center features:

- personal work space
- computer, high-speed internet, and wireless
- personal phone, fax, and printing
- flexible scheduling for long and short stays
- convenient downtown location, metro accessible
- meeting and conference room facilities
- reference library
- night and weekend access
- community of scholars
- access to: U.S. government, Library of Congress, National Archives, World Bank, International Monetary Fund, USAID, national party headquarters, embassies from around the world, Organization of American States, etc.

Funding Opportunities

As a result of generous contributions by members and friends, APSA developed endowments for grant programs that may support stays at the Centennial Center.

NEW BOOK FROM THE CAIO
INSTITUTE

“This clear, concise, well-researched survey of government growth will make both liberals and conservatives uncomfortable by showing their history, warts and all.”

— JONATHAN BEAN,
Southern Illinois University

This new book assesses the highs and lows of the nearly 30-year struggle to limit government—Reagan’s successes and failures, the Republican Congress’ drift away from Reagan’s legacy, and George W. Bush’s rejection of limited government in favor of high spending, crusades overseas, and mixing religion with government. The author shows that the elections of 2006 and 2008 were a repudiation of the failed Bush presidency, not of a limited government cautioning all to ignore this at their peril.

THE VIRTUES OF MENDACITY
On Lying in Politics

MARTIN JAY

“Many works have dealt with lying and with politics, and some have dealt with the two themes together. But nobody has done quite what Jay does. He gives us an erudite survey of much of the literature on lying since Plato, then offers us a tour of the literature on ‘the political,’ and then, finally, brings the two into confrontation with each other. It is possible that this is Jay’s best book. In any case, it will surely become a primary reference point for anyone who wants to think seriously about lies and lying.”—ALLAN MEGILL, author of Historical Knowledge, Historical Error: A Contemporary Guide to Practice

CONTRACT AND CONSENT
Representation and the Jury in
Anglo-American Legal History

J. R. POLE

“Contract and Consent will delight scholars in both American and legal history, as well as political theory. Its readers will be in the hands of a very erudite scholar who has had a long time to reflect on the many nuances in the law and its application. The historical detail and astute exploration of the social and political impact of law add a great deal to the whole effect.”—JOYCE APPLEBY, author of Inheriting

ON THE TRAIL OF
THE D.C. SNIPER
Fear and the Media

JACK R. CENSER

with the assistance of William Miller

“Based on strong and remarkably comprehensive research of news coverage across the media, this book is an intelligent and knowledgeable work on a traumatic event that became a matter of broad national interest. This episode is well worth the kind of close attention Censer gives it.”—Michael Schudson, author of Why Democracies Need an Unlovable Press
