For those who really want to know what is happening in the world today

READ THE WORLD TODAY

Send for free sample issue with no obligation to subscribe

THE WORLD TODAY is a unique magazine of international politics. It covers the broad issues alongside the small ones. It covers the internal politics of countries you don't hear much about, from the inside out. It opens up questions for the scholar and fills in gaps for the general reader. And it takes a balanced point of view.

'THE WORLD TODAY has excellent articles on subjects which are my political corner. The aim of the articles is to present facts systematically, not to express opinions.'

Denis Healey, M.P., shadow foreign secretary

'THE WORLD TODAY is thoroughly researched and clearly written. It provides valuable background information and its choice of subjects is catholic and intelligent.'

Rupert Pennant-Rea, editor of The Economist

'THE WORLD TODAY is topical, to the point, a good halfway house between daily and weekly press and academic journals. I read it for useful background and insights.'

Andrew Knight, chief executive of The Daily Telegraph

'THE WORLD TODAY taps the best available expertise on international subjects. I recommend it to anyone who wants a greater depth and specialist expertise on a range of topics of current interest.'

John Tusa, Managing Director, BBC External Services

See for yourself. Read THE WORLD TODAY for commentaries, articles, book reviews. For your sample issue, write to THE WORLD TODAY, Royal Institute of International Affairs, 10 St James's Square, London SW1 4LE, U.K.

THE WORLD TODAY is the political monthly of the Royal Institute of International Affairs.

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

GUIDELINES

The distinctive readership of the Journal, cutting across academic disciplines and national boundaries, makes the following points of particular importance to contributors.

*Whatever the specific subject matter, the relevance of conclusions to a broad understanding of policymaking should be made explicit.

*Whatever the national setting, the extent to which conclusions are generalizable to many nations should be explicitly discussed.

*Each article should show an awareness of the constraints that public institutions place upon policymaking.

*Jargon should be avoided; technical terms not widely understood should be clearly defined; and the conclusions of statistical analyses should be set out in prose, as well as being supported by quantitative information in tables, footnotes and text as appropriate.

PREPARATION OF MANUSCRIPT

The entire manuscript, including footnotes and references, should be typed double-spaced on one side only of A4 size paper, with a left-hand margin of at least 1½ inches (4½ cm). Manuscript pages should be numbered consecutively.

The title of the article and the author's name and address should be typed on a separate page at the beginning of the article.

The second page should contain an abstract of not more than 150 words and the title of the article, but not the author's name.

Tables and Figures should be numbered consecutively in separate series. Each table or figure should be typed or drawn on a separate sheet. Every table or figure should have a title or caption and at least one reference in the text to indicate its approximate location.

STYLE

Spelling, capitalization and punctuation should be consistent within each article. Detailed advice on all matters of style is contained in Judith Butcher's book, Copyediting, Cambridge University Press (1975).

Headings of not more than two grades should be used and they should be typed on separate lines.

Numbered footnotes should be avoided: citation of references in the text is the norm. If there are a few points that require discussion in the article but not in the body of the text, numbered footnotes may be used. They may also be useful for technical details, e.g. statistical points that would interrupt the flow of the text. Numbered footnotes should be typed consecutively, double-spaced, at the end of the paper, starting on a new page.

References to publications should be placed in the text. Examples of correct styling for bibliographic citation where the author's name is mentioned in the text are Alford (1975), Biller (1976, 136-7), May and Wildavsky (1978), Ostrom, Parks and Whitaker (1978) and subsequently Ostrom et al. (1978).

At the end of the paper, all references should be consolidated in a single alphabetical list starting on a new page. Authors are particularly requested to verify that each text reference appears in the list, and vice versa. In addition to author(s) surname and first name(s) or initial(s), and the title of the book or article, references to books should always include the city of publication and publisher, and for journal articles the volume and part number. For example:

Alford, R. (1975) Health Care Politics. Chicago: University of Chicago Press.

Biller, R. (1976) On tolerating policy and organizational termination: some design considerations, Policy Sciences, 7, 2, 133-49.

Campbell, D. (1971) Reforms as experiments. In F. Caro (ed.), Readings in Evaluation Research. New York: Russell Sage.

May, J. and A. Wildavsky (eds.) (1978) The Policy Cycle. Beverly Hills: Sage.

SUBMISSION

Please submit the original manuscript plus three copies to: Professor Richard Rose, Journal of Public Policy, Centre for the Study of Public Policy, University of Strathclyde, Livingstone Tower, Glasgow G1 1XH, Scotland.

COPYEDITING AND PROOF-READING

The editor and publishers reserve the right to copyedit and proof all items accepted for publication. Authors will review their copyedited manuscripts only if substantial changes have been made. Manuscripts which do not conform to the requirements about style and format may be returned for retyping.

Page proofs of articles will be sent to authors for correction of typographical errors only. Authors must notify the editorial office of any corrections within one week of receipt or approval will be assumed.

Submission of an article or other item implies that it has not been published or accepted for publication elsewhere. Authors are responsible for obtaining written permission to publish material for which they do not own the copyright. Contributors of material accepted for publication will be asked to assign their copyrights to Cambridge University Press.

Each author will receive 50 offprints of his article without charge. Additional copies may be purchased if ordered at proof stage.

The Journal of Public Policy is sponsored by the Centre for the Study of Public Policy, University of Strathclyde
