A new wave of civic instruction is moving through American education. As numerous national groups and institutions are joining this effort, political science is uniquely equipped to advance teaching civic engagement. The discipline should lead the movement for high quality civic education across the curriculum and across the disciplines.

To focus on this wave of civic engagement education, APSA is publishing the ebook Teaching Civic Engagement Across the Disciplines, edited by Elizabeth C. Matto, Rutgers University; Alison Rios Millett McCartney, Towson University; Elizabeth A. Bennion, Indiana University; and Dick Simpson, University of Illinois at Chicago.

The book redirects the focus from teaching better political science courses to teaching civic engagement across the disciplines. Building on the 2013 book Teaching Civic Engagement: From Student to Active Citizen, this book advances the conversation on civic engagement and provides critical scholarly insight into where to go next.

Philosophy of Perspectives on Politics

Perspectives seeks to nurture a political science public sphere, publicizing important scholarly topics, ideas, and innovations, linking scholarly authors and readers, and promoting broad reflexive discussion among political scientists about the work that we do and why this work matters.

A full-length copy of the journal's editorial philosophy appears in Perspectives on Politics 8(1): 7–10 and also on the web at http://www.apsanet.org/content\_44375.cfm.

Submission and Review

For submission guidelines, please see http://www.apsanet.org/content\_44360.cfm.

Our editorial team discusses all submissions. Those that seem promising are evaluated by several external reviewers—with full confidentiality on both sides—and then accepted, returned for further revisions, or declined with suggestions of more appropriate venues for publication.
