Home Equity and Ageing Owners

Between Risk and Regulation

Lorna Fox O'Mahony

This book provides a contextual analysis of the financial transactions that older people enter into using their housing equity. It traces the protections afforded to older owners through the 'ordinary' law of property and contract, as well as the development of specific regulatory protections focused on targeted products. The book employs the notion of risk to highlight the nature and causes of the 'situational' vulnerabilities to which older people are now subject as 'consumers' of housing equity.

Lorna Fox O'Mahony is Professor of Law at Durham Law School.

Family Law, Gender and the State

Text, Cases and Materials

Alison Diduck and Felicity Kaganas

The third edition of this work on family law provides not only an explication of legal principle but also explores, primarily from a feminist perspective, some of the assumptions about, and constructions of, gender, sexual orientation, class and culture that underlie the law. Structured around the themes of welfare, equality and family privacy, the book aims to offer the benefits of a textbook while also giving students a wide-ranging set of materials for classroom discussion.

Alison Diduck is Professor of Law at University College London.

Felicity Kaganas is a Reader in Law at Brunel University.

Marital Agreements and Private Autonomy in Comparative Perspective

Edited by Jens M Scherpe

This book deals with a subject that has recently been the focus of debate and law reform: how much scope should spouses have to conclude agreements concerning their financial affairs - and under which circumstances should such agreements be binding and enforceable? The book provides a comprehensive source of reference on ancillary relief/matrimonial property and maintenance and the rules on pre-nuptial, post-nuptial and separation agreements in 14 jurisdictions. It offers guidance for academics and practitioners dealing with international matters and a basis for discussions on law reform.

Jens M Scherpe is a Senior University Lecturer in Law, University of Cambridge.

Law and the Regulation of Medicines

Emily Jackson

The principal purpose of this book is to tell the story of a medicine's journey through the regulatory system in the UK, from the definition of a medicine, through clinical trials, licensing, pharmacovigilance, litigation, marketing and funding. The question of global access to medicines is also addressed and two further specific challenges to the future of medicines regulation are examined separately: pharmacogenetics and the possibility of using medicines to enhance wellbeing or performance, rather than treat disease.

Emily Jackson is Professor of English Law at the London School of Economics.
