Experimental Agriculture publishes the results of experimental work in animal and crop husbandry, with an emphasis on research carried out in the warmer climates of the world. It includes accounts of new experimental techniques, discussions of specific problems met in countries when agricultural production is developing rapidly, review articles on new developments in scientific agriculture, and occasional papers on technical, economic and sociological aspects of farming systems. The journal is the successor to The Empire Journal of Experimental Agriculture.

Each annual volume comprises four parts (published in January, April, July and October) plus an index.

Subscriptions may be sent to any bookseller or subscription agent or direct to the Cambridge University Press, Bentley House, 200 Euston Road, London, N.W. 1. Subscriptions in the U.S.A. and Canada should be sent to the American branch of the Press, 32 East 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10022. The subscription price is 75s. net (including postage) for an annual volume ($13.50 in the U.S.A.), payable in advance; separate parts cost 25s. net or $4.50 each (plus postage).

Back Volumes. Inquiries for Vols. 1–32 of The Empire Journal of Experimental Agriculture should be addressed to Wm Dawson & Sons Ltd, 16 West Street, Farnham, Surrey. Previously published parts of Experimental Agriculture are available from the London or New York offices of the Cambridge University Press.

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Contributions will be welcomed from scientists of all nationalities, particularly those working in tropical and sub-tropical countries where up-to-date techniques of agricultural experimentation are helping in the rapid development of more modern methods of farm production. Contributions, which must be written in English, should be sent to the Editor, Professor J. P. Hudson, University of Nottingham School of Agriculture, Sutton Bonington, Loughborough, England.

Conditions of acceptance. Submission of a paper will be taken to imply that the material has not previously been published, and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. Papers published in Experimental Agriculture may not be reprinted or published in translation without permission from the Editor, given on behalf of the Editorial Board.

General lay-out. Before having their manuscripts typed contributors are asked to look carefully at the lay-out of

AGRONOMY JOURNAL

This official organ of the American Society of Agronomy is a bimonthly publication of up-to-date reports of general agronomic research. Workers in the field of forages and pastures, crop improvement, cultural practices, soil fertility, and allied areas of investigation will find articles of lasting interest in AGRONOMY JOURNAL. Publication is open to members of the American Society of Agronomy.

STORING HIDES WITHOUT STORING INSECTS IS EASY WITH VAPONA

Vapona, Shell's latest insecticide, vaporises—whether you spray, fog or sprinkle it. The vapour spreads effectively up to 100 feet from its point of release, probing into cracks and crevices to search out and kill all types of insects (even resistant strains). Yet Vapona, which is DDVP based, breaks down rapidly into harmless substances on surfaces and in the presence of moisture. And the minute dosage required to destroy insects causes no harm or discomfort to humans or animals. Vapona is highly suitable for use in warehouses, such as those used for hide storage (it easily controls all moths and hide and skin beetles), as well as in restaurants, cinemas, abattoirs, food processing plants and garbage dumps. Vapona is just one of Shell's comprehensive group of pesticides, which includes aldrin, dieldrin, endrin, Phosdrin, D-D, and Nemagon.

Vapona Pest Strips are now also available. These offer a unique new method of continuous insect control which may have applications of interest to you.
