THE NEW

Catholic Herald

AN UNSOLICITED TESTIMONIAL FROM
MR. G. K. CHESTERTON

“There is only one paper I know in England which gives you some sort of idea of what Europe is like, and that is the CATHOLIC HERALD.

“Possibly you have never seen it. It has lately been taken over by people who do know a lot about Europe, and if you are really eager to obtain first-hand information from reliable sources about what the Russians have to say for themselves, or what the Nazis or any others are doing, read the CATHOLIC HERALD, no matter whether you are a Catholic, a theosophist, or even a devil-worshipper, for it is one of the best-informed papers of the day.”

(From a recent public speech on the Press, in which Mr. Chesterton added that he had no financial interest in the paper and did not even know the people who run it.)

WANTED!

A Serious
Catholic NEWSpaper

This want has now been supplied by the

New Catholic Herald

As a reader of BLACKFRIARS you are probably the sort of person who likes to see one of the more serious daily papers. The Daily Scream and its competitors may amuse you, but you do not take them seriously.

And when you read your daily paper, don't you wish you could read a serious Catholic newspaper as well?

Have you tried the New Catholic Herald? Quite a number of people find us serious, though no one as yet has insulted us by calling us "highbrow." Life is serious, and so is religion, and so are we!

We have correspondents in the important countries abroad, each one chosen because he or she realizes the vital problems that lie before the world. At home, we concentrate on what is happening behind the scenes, whether in religion or secular life. We deal weekly and seriously with books, the wireless, drama, cinema and sports.

We said above that no one had called us highbrow. We have just remembered that no one has called us heavy either.

A NEW APPROACH to spiritual realities for Catholics of to-day, yet one as old as the Church herself, is an active and intelligent taking part in the Liturgy of the Church. 'The people are better instructed in the truths of faith by the annual celebration of our sacred mysteries than by even the weightiest pronouncements of the teaching of the Church.' (Encyclical on the Feast of the Kingship of Christ.)
