Are you concerned with employment rights as an employee, employer, attorney, labor negotiator, academic, human resources professional, or student? If you are, the Journal of Individual Employment Rights is meant for you.

The Journal of

INDIVIDUAL EMPLOYMENT RIGHTS

Kurt H. Decker, Esq. and Dr. Harry Kershen, Editors

Editorial Intent

One of the most rapidly evolving areas of employment law is that of individual employment rights. Employees are asserting newly found rights against their employers arising out of at-will employment erosion, binding commitments present in handbooks and employment policies, public policy violations, privacy intrusions, and so forth.

Individual employment rights is an area of employment law that has no clearly defined boundaries. The sources of these rights include federal and state constitutions, a multitude of employment statutes, and the common law. Its subject matter is equally varied, including such diverse matters as record keeping and disclosure, health and safety, fair employment practices, alcohol and drug abuse, AIDS, medical screening, employee surveillance, wage and hour standards, union-management relations, employment contracts, dispute resolution, etc.

The Journal of Individual Employment Rights' intent is to serve as a central source for addressing and researching these newly asserted rights as they are debated and developed by courts, academicians, legal practitioners, and human resource professionals. Its emphasis is on the theoretical as well as the practical by serving as a forum for the interchange of ideas and information for all individuals concerned with this developing area.

Ill-Gotten Gains

Evasion, Blackmail, Fraud, and Kindred Puzzles of the Law

LEO KATZ

"[An] elegant defense of circumvention and subterfuge. . . What Katz is trying to do is show that the loophole is not an arbitrary creation, that the ambiguities of our law reflect deep ethical conundrums that cannot be wished away. There is, in other words, a certain deontological dignity to our tortuous circumventions of the I.R.S. If the Jesuit theologians of the seventeenth century were here today, Katz believes, they would probably all be accountants, which is, when you think about it, probably the nicest thing anyone has ever said about the tax system."
