The American Society of International Law

The American Society of International Law was organized in 1906 "to foster the study of international law and to promote the establishment and maintenance of international relations on the basis of law and justice."

The Society serves as a meeting place and forum for scholars, teachers, officials, lawyers, and others, from some one hundred countries. In April, it holds a three-day Annual Meeting at which current problems of international law are discussed. The Society also sponsors regional meetings outside of Washington in cooperation with other institutions. Salient questions of international law and relations are considered in depth by panels and study groups organized by the Society's Board of Review and Development. Works of scholarship are often published under the Society's auspices in connection with studies sponsored by the Board, many in the Society's series of Studies in Transnational Legal Policy.

The Society periodically issues four publications:

The American Journal of International Law, the leading journal in the field of international law, has been published since 1907. The Proceedings of the American Society of International Law carries the papers and discussion of the annual meeting of the Society. Both are distributed to all members of the Society without additional charge, and are available to nonmembers at a subscription rate of $36 a year.

International Legal Materials, a bimonthly, is a unique international collection of texts of current official documents, including legislation, treaties, court decisions, and reports. Subscription rates are $20 a year for members of the Society, $55 for others.

The quarterly Newsletter provides members with news of the Society and other organizations in the field.

Society membership is open to all persons of whatever nationality and profession who are interested in its objectives. Dues are: regular, $30 for residents of the United States, $22 for non-residents; professional, $40; intermediate, $15; student, $10. ($15 of membership fee is allotted to AJIL subscription.) Membership application form is printed at the back of each issue of AJIL.
