THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD

BY THE RT. REV.
BENEDICT BAUR, O.S.B.

"This is more than a manual of meditations. It is a genuine and very successful attempt to model our life as Christians on the life of the Church. The Church is Christ renewed from day to day. It is important therefore that our prayer life and meditation should be concerned with knowing more and more about the meaning of each Sunday's Mass. The Church contains in her liturgy all that is needed to form in us the adult Christian. This book is a lifetime investment."—Ave Maria.

"Anyone who has difficulty in using a missal during Mass will find these two volumes a great help. In a very clear and simple style, and with the minimum amount of liturgical history, it explains and enlarges upon the teaching found in the missal on Sundays and week-days throughout the year and it shows how it is to be applied to daily life. The missal is a mine of information about Christ and the Church, as these two volumes show, and most of the wealth is lost to the majority of people in ordinary life through lack of encouragement to search for it; they don't really know what to look for and their efforts become less and less. Day by day and season by season this book throws light on the message contained in the liturgy and impresses it upon the reader by constant repetition and exhortation. The readings for each day are usually not more than a few pages of clear print and if used for the whole year in conjunction with the missal will have the effect of stimulating flagging interest and introducing the light and peace of Christ into people's lives."—The Downside Review. 2 vols. Vol. 1, 56/-; Vol. 2, 52/6.
