Editor: Dr. Peter Coleman
University of Southampton

Ageing and Society is an interdisciplinary and international journal devoted to publishing papers, particularly from the social sciences and humanities, which further the understanding of all aspects of human ageing. It draws contributions and readers from the complete spectrum of subject areas including:

- economics
- sociology
- psychology
- anthropology
- geography
- medicine
- literature
- policy studies
- social work
- political science
- history
- law
- art
- demography

Recent contents include:

Human Variability and Plasticity

Edited by C. G. N. MASCIE-TAYLOR and BARRY BOGIN

Foreword by G A. HARRISON

Most animals are capable of altering their biology or behaviour to respond plastically to changes in their environment. Humans are perhaps the most plastic of all species, and this book examines how human variability is affected by such factors as starvation, disease, child growth and migration.

Human Energetics in Biological Anthropology

STANLEY J. ULIJASZEK

Considers various ways in which measurements of energy intake, expenditure and balance have been used to study human populations. It will be useful to teachers and students of human biology, anthropology and nutrition.

The Health Consequences of 'Modernisation'

Evidence from Circumpolar Peoples

R. J. SHEPHARD and A. RODE

The transition from an active hunter-gatherer lifestyle to that of a 'modern' urbanised lifestyle brings with it many consequences for health and fitness. In this volume, this transition is examined in circumpolar populations, where change has been rapid and extensive in the last thirty years.

Genetic Variation and Human Disease

Principles and Evolutionary Approaches

KENNETH M. WEISS

Provides an overview of the concepts and methods needed to understand the genetic basis of biological traits, including disease, in humans. It will appeal to many biologists and biological anthropologists interested in this field.

Genius

The Natural History of Creativity

HANS EYSENCK

Genius and creativity have long been related to psychopathology. In this book, Professor Eysenck examines the nature of genius, and suggests what role factors such as intelligence, social status and gender play in its expression. The book will be required reading for psychologists, psychiatrists, philosophers and sociologists.

Long-term Consequences of Early Environment

Growth, Development and the Lifespan Developmental Perspective

Edited by C. J. K. HENRY and S. J. ULIJASZEK

The early environment in which we grow up has profound, long lasting, and often irreversible consequences for us throughout our lives. Here, the long term consequences of early environment are investigated by a leading team of researchers in this text for all those interested in human biology.

Molecular Biology and Human Diversity

Edited by A. J. BOYCE and C. G. N. MASCIE-TAYLOR

Molecular studies of human diversity and origins are receiving increasing attention. New evidence from nuclear DNA and from archaic populations has given new insights into the field. This volume discusses the importance of these new methods and findings for human biology, molecular biology and genetics.

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

The Journal of Biosocial Science publishes original papers, short reports, reviews, lectures, and book reviews dealing with social aspects of human biology, including reproduction and its control, gerontology, ecology, genetics and applied psychology, with biological aspects of the social sciences, including sociology, social anthropology, education and criminology, with social and biological elements of nutrition, growth and development, health and epidemiology, and with biosocial aspects of demography. Preference is given to material which is clearly interdisciplinary.

Papers are considered for publication on the understanding that they have not been, nor will be, published elsewhere in whole or in part, and that, where customary, they have been approved for publication by the relevant Head of Department. The Editor is not responsible for any loss or damage to manuscripts or illustrations and his decision on all editorial matters is final. The Editor reserves the right to make minor literary emendations but manuscripts will not be substantially altered without consultation with the author. The author is responsible for the accuracy of quotations, tabular matter and references.

Manuscripts (original+one copy) should be sent to the Editor, Journal of Biosocial Science, Department of Biological Anthropology, Downing Street, Cambridge CB2 3DZ, UK. They should be written in English, using British spelling, except for quotations which should follow the original. Manuscripts should bear the title of the paper, name and address of the Institution where the work was done, the author's present address (if different), and a short running head (maximum 50 letters). Titles should be brief. A short summary should precede the text. Acknowledgments should be made in a separate section. Footnotes are not accepted. For papers on infant feeding, the use of Labbok & Krasovek's definitions of infant/breast-feeding groups is recommended (Stud. Fam. Plann. (1990) 21, 226).

Tables should be typed on separate sheets, be given Arabic numbers and adequate captions. They should not exceed in size the equivalent of one printed page. Their approximate position in the text should be indicated.

Text-figures. Good quality camera-ready originals should be supplied. Captions should be listed on a separate sheet.

References in the text should be given by author(s)' name(s) and date. An alphabetical list at the end of the main text, should include, in order: author(s)' name(s), initials, year in parentheses, article title, journal name abbreviated in accordance with the World List of Scientific Periodicals (4th Edn), volume number, first and last page numbers. For books and conference proceedings, Editor(s)' name(s), publisher, and place of publication should be included. Unpublished papers should not be cited, unless in press.

Debate. A section is reserved for publishing comments (maximum 500 words) on papers appearing in previous issues. Authors whose papers are involved will be given an opportunity for simultaneous response.

Proofs will be sent to contributors for minor corrections and should be returned to the Editor within 3 days of receipt. Major alterations to the text will be accepted only at the author's expense.

Offprints. 50 offprints of each article will be supplied free to the first named author. Extra offprints may be purchased by ordering on the form sent out with the proofs.
