

Endangered Lives

Public Health in Victorian Britain

Anthony S. Wohl

Anthony Wohl offers a detailed examination of the social and physical environment in which the people of Victorian Britain lived, and of the effects of the surroundings—both public and domestic—upon people's health.

$20.00

Riots and Community Politics in England and Wales, 1790–1810

John Bohstedt

Using statistical analysis of six hundred riots and carefully drawn comparative case studies, Bohstedt examines and explains why riot was the most widespread and successful form of popular politics of the eighteenth century in England and Wales.

$30.00

Ideas of the Restoration in English Literature, 1660–1671

Nicholas Jose

Jose brings together a wide range of responses to the Restoration of Charles II—panegyrics, satires, pageants, plays, memoirs, histories—by forgotten hacks as well as lauded poets. $15.00

The Puritan Moment

The Coming of Revolution in an English County

William Hunt

“Hunt's purpose is to present an overall argument about Essex's response to national developments in the period from the 1570s to 1642. He has written a well-researched and stimulating book . . . his zest and enthusiasm carry the story along.”

—Times Literary Supplement

Harvard Historical Studies, 102

$36.00

Harvard University Press

Cambridge, MA 02138

Humanities

The Hunger Marchers in Britain, 1920-1940

Peter Kingsford

The first overall history of the six marches on London which were staged between the two World Wars to protest unemployment. It is based on new material including both government and police files as well as interviews with surviving marchers.

1982, 244 pp., illus., index

ISBN 85315-555-0

cloth $26.50

John Russell, First Earl of Bedford

Diane Willen

This historical biography follows the long and distinguished career of John Russell who was a valued servant of the Tudor crown for nearly five decades. His career is important for the exceptionally lucid portrait it paints of a typical new noble and for the insights it offers into Henry VIII and the Tudor system of governance.

1981, 145 pp., index

ISBN 0-901050-60-1

cloth $32.50

Heresy and Reformation in the South East of England, 1520-1559

John F. Davis

This study of the English Reformation revises earlier interpretations which have emphasized continental theological influence and focuses, instead, on native pre-Reformation antecedents and, in particular, Lollardy.

1983, 169 pp., biblio., index

ISBN 0-391-02874-X

cloth $28.50

Conspiracy: Law, Class and Society

Robert Spicer

The first historical and political study of the English law of conspiracy, from the eighteenth century to the present day. Focusing on major contemporary trials, the author explains the use of this law as a weapon against labor organizations for the past two hundred years.

1981, 190 pp., glossary, biblio., index

ISBN 85315-548-8

cloth $15.75

Merchant Shipping and War: A Study of Defence Planning in Twentieth-Century Britain

Martin Doughty

Examines the organization of the shipping industry and other transport systems and analyzes their operation in war. The book also provides a case study of attitudes to state intervention in industry, in peace as well as war, and will thus be of interest to scholars of the changing relationship between British government and a capitalist economy in the period.

1982, 218 pp., index, biblio.

ISBN 0-391026-88-7

cloth $30.00

Please write for our complete History Catalog

HUMANITIES PRESS

171 First Avenue

Atlantic Highlands • New Jersey 07716

Oxford

Siegfried Sassoon's Long Journey

Selections from the Sherston Memoirs

Edited by PAUL FUSSELL. Here are key excerpts from one of the most moving pieces of English literature to emerge from the devastation of the first world war: Sassoon's great trilogy The Memoirs of George Sherston. A fictionalized account of Sassoon's own early life and wartime experience, the books constituting this trilogy (Memoirs of a Fox-Hunting Man, Memoirs of an Infantry Officer, and Sherston's Progress) form a gripping coming-of-age chronicle.

1983 192 pp., 105 halftones $19.95

The Great War at Sea

RICHARD HOUGH. In this fresh analysis of the greatest naval conflict of modern history, Hough discusses both the course of World War I and its historical background. Hough believes the Royal Navy not only beat the Kriegsmarine without resort to a bloody Trafalgar, but that its unrelenting pressure was the prime factor in the defeat of the Central Powers on land by the end of 1918.

1983 320 pp., 24 plates, 11 maps $25.00

SOE in the Far East

CHARLES CRUICKSHANK. The whole course of the Second World War in the Far East might have been changed if the activities of Britain's Special Operations Executive (SOE) had been given a freer reign by the military and the politicians. This is the startling conclusion of Cruickshank's official history, based on secret files and the accounts of surviving agents.

1983 352 pp., 16 plates, 5 maps $25.00

H.H. Asquith: Letters to Venetia Stanley

Edited by MICHAEL and ELEANOR BROCK. "Edited with erudition and insight [and] explanatory notes that are a model of their kind." — New York Times Book Review. "An intriguing example of a private drama played out on a public stage." — Washington Post Book World.

1983 672 pp., illus. $35.00

At better bookstores or direct from

Oxford University Press

Box 900 200 Madison Ave., New York, NY 10016

Oxford

Lancastrian Normandy, 1415-1450 The History of a Medieval Occupation

C. T. ALLMAND, University of Liverpool. This is the first book in either English or French to treat as a whole the many facets of the Lancastrian occupation of Normandy in the fifteenth century. Allmand analyses the difficulties and opportunities presented by the occupation, placing particular emphasis on the English land settlement and its implication—economic, legal, military, and diplomatic—for the future of the English presence in northern France. The French reaction to the occupation is also considered.

November 1983 360 pp. $52.50

The Dukeries Transformed The Social and Political Development of a Twentieth-Century Coalfield

ROBERT J. WALLER, University of Oxford. This original and compelling study of the social and political effects of establishing a new coalfield in the Dukeries district of Nottinghamshire in the 1920s challenges many familiar assertions about mining communities. It describes the creation, and subsequent problems, of the model villages built by the coal companies to house their work force and explores the often strained relationship between migrant miners and the existing population. Waller uses oral evidence in particular to present a revealing and vivid account of "benevolent" paternalism at work.

(Oxford Historical Monographs)

November 1983 328 pp.; 5 illus. $47.50

After the Armada Elizabethan England and the Struggle for Western Europe, 1588-1595

R. B. WERNHAM, University of Oxford. R. B. Wernham's new book describes Elizabethan England's part in the European conflict in the crucial years after 1588, when Spain and its allies in the French Catholic League most seriously threatened to dominate Western Europe and in particular the "invasion coasts" of France and the Low Countries facing England. It is the first full account to be based firmly on the relevant English State Papers, and its detailed narrative emphasizes the continental, military aspect of the war rather than the oceanic, naval events which usually occupy historians.

December 1983 608 pp.; maps $69.00

The Age of Abbot Desiderius Montecassino, the Papacy, and the Normans in the Eleventh and Early Twelfth Centuries

H. E. J. COWDREY, University of Oxford. Desiderius, Abbot of Montecassino from 1058 to 1087, enjoyed a brief reign as Pope Victor III. During his lifetime the most ancient of Benedictine monasteries enjoyed the "golden age" of its long history. Its life, culture, and resources are studied in detail, both in themselves and in relation to the reform papacy of the late eleventh and early twelfth centuries.

December 1983 450 pp. $47.50

Prices and publication dates are subject to change.

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS
200 Madison Avenue, New York, New York 10016

CAMBRIDGE

The Invention of Tradition

Eric Hobsbawn and Terence Ranger, Editors

An exploration of traditions and customs often thought to be ancient or even immemorial: the national cultures of Scotland and Wales, the customs of African peoples, and the ceremonies of national and imperial monarchy. The contributors show how and why these were invented for nationalist or imperial purposes, and investigate the attempts of radical reformers to develop symbols, ceremonies, and traditions of their own. $29.95

Selections from the Papers of the London Corresponding Society, 1792–1799

Mary Thale

A select edition of original documents, most of them previously unpublished, that trace the history of the early working-class reform group, the London Corresponding Society. $89.50

A Short History of Ireland

John O'Beirne Ranelagh

Based on years of archival research and interviews with hundreds of participants in the making of modern Ireland, this lively volume covers the full sweep of Irish history from earliest times to the present day. Cloth $29.95 Paper $9.95

Henry Stubbe, Radical Protestantism and the Early Enlightenment

James R. Jacob

The first biography of Henry Stubbe (1632–76)—classicist, polemicist, physician, and philosopher—in which he is shown to have been influenced by such diverse thinkers as Galen, Pomponazzi, Selden, Hobbes, Harrington, Boyle, and Thomas Willis. $37.50

Democracy and Elections

Electoral Systems and Their Political Consequences

Vernon Bogdanor and David Butler, Editors

Examining a range of electoral systems employed by a number of Western democracies, this book both serves as a work in comparative political analysis and offers a wider perspective against which current proposals for altering the British system may be judged. $39.50

Multi-Party Politics and the Constitution

Vernon Bogdanor

A highly respected writer on British politics examines the reasons for the growth of multi-party politics in Britain and the constitutional consequences. The author's clear, nontechnical arguments are illustrated by examples from British history and from Continental, especially Scandinavian, experience. $37.50

Cambridge University Press

32 East 57th Street • New York, N.Y. 10022

NEW BOOKS! from HMSO, the British Government Publisher

34th Edition BRITAIN 1983 An Official Handbook

Illustrated with color photographs, maps, and diagrams, Britain 83 features a history of the U.K., and examines its education, economy, overseas relations, the arts, sports, and more.

1983/460 pp., illus./0117010278/$25.95/HB

15th Edition A YEAR BOOK OF THE COMMONWEALTH 1983

An invaluable reference containing facts, figures, and general information on every country of the Commonwealth. Features a special color insert on the flags of each country.

1983/535 pp., illus./0115802320/$32.00/PB

GUIDES TO SOURCES FOR BRITISH HISTORY

General Editor: G.R.C. Davis

Of immense value to scholars, historians, and libraries, this new series identifies the primary sources of important historical documents and papers. Material is grouped by subject and chosen in areas where there is most obviously a scholarly demand.

VOLUME I:
PAPERS OF BRITISH CABINET
MINISTERS 1782-1900

1982/75 pp./0114401217/$8.75/HB

VOLUME II:
PAPERS OF BRITISH
SCIENTISTS 1600-1940

1982/110 pp./0114401225/$8.75/HB

VOLUME III:
GUIDE TO THE LOCATION OF COLLECTIONS DESCRIBED IN
THE REPORTS AND CALENDAR SERIES

1982/70 pp./0114401446/$8.75/HB

CENTRAL OFFICE OF INFORMATION REFERENCE BOOKS

Organization of Political Parties in Britain

Presents the historical background to Britain's Major political parties, outlines the modern party system, & examines party organization inside & outside Parliament.

1983/34 pp./011701043X/$6.50/PB

Britain in the European Community

Details Britain's role in the Community, discusses the Common Market, monetary policy, Community budget, industry, agriculture, social affairs, & political cooperation.

1983/70 pp./011701253X/$9.50/PB

Britain's Invisible Trade

Describes the financial & commercial activities that give rise to the earnings and payments in the invisibles account under services, interest, profits, and dividends, and transfers.

1983/33 pp./0117010413/$6.50/PB

Britain & Its People

Presents a short history of Great Britain, describes its unique physical features, & examines its social framework including population, nationality, women, minorities, & more.

1983/35 pp./0117012521/$6.95/PB

available from:

HMSO BOOK MARKETING AGENCY
Kraus-Thomson Organization Ltd.
Route 100, Millwood, N.Y. 10546

British Studies

THE ORIGINS OF ANGLO-AMERICAN RADICALISM

Margaret Jacob and James Jacob, Eds.

Brings together leading scholars from the US and the UK to explore the trans-Atlantic tradition of radical political thought and action from the English Revolution through the American Revolution.

HB $35.00 368pp. 1983

ENGLAND'S SEA EMPIRE

D. B. Quinn and A. N. Ryan

Focusing on the time period 1550-1650 the authors examine the development of England's naval power, early modern external trade, and the early experiments with colonization.

HB $25.00 256pp. 1983
Early Modern Europe Today Series

THE REALITIES BEHIND DIPLOMACY: Background Influences on British External Policy 1865-1980

Paul Kennedy

This critically acclaimed work is now available in paperback.

"... A well-written and well-argued book which will be of considerable value to a variety of readers." Albion

PB $9.95 416pp. 1983

British Humour

THE SECOND CUCKOO A Further Selection of Witty, Amusing and Memorable Letters to The Times. Chosen and Introduced by Kenneth Gregory.

"... The book is filled with a true democracy of dry and straight-faced humor. It is uproariously funny. Best not to read it in public. Observers might be frightened by your uncontrollable laughter." Washington Post Book World

HB $14.50 322pp. 1983

A BOOK OF EDWARDIAN ETIQUETTE

G. R. M. Devereux Author of "Etiquette for Men," "Etiquette of Engagement and Marriage," etc.

Originally published in 1902 as A Book of Modern Modes and Manners, this delightful facsimile reprint provides a humorous and vivid picture of the behavior and attitudes of the Edwardians.

HB $8.95 144pp., illus. 1983

Allen & Unwin, Inc.

9 Winchester Terrace
Winchester, MA

20% Discount on Prepaid Orders (check, MC/VISA)