The Traditional History of the Jie of Uganda

J. E. Lamphear

This book is the first attempt to reconstruct the pre-colonial history of the Jie of Uganda, and the first detailed historical study of any of the Central Paralinotic-speaking peoples of Karamoja District, Uganda, neighbouring areas of north-west Kenya, and the southern Sudan. The central theme is the development of the Jie political community from c. A.D. 1720 to 1915. £9.75

Chiefs and Clerics

Abdul Bokar Kan and the History of Futa Toro, 1853-1891

David Robinson

Set in Futa Toro, or the middle valley of the Senegal River, Chiefs and Clerics begins with the struggle for hegemony between the French under Faidherbe and the Tokolor reformer, al-hajj Umar Tal. The story continues with the political career of Abdul Bokar Kan, a chief without clerical credentials who restored much of the autonomy and prosperity of the area between 1860 and 1891, when the French finally conquered his kingdom. Illustrated £7.50

Kings and Kinsmen

Early Mbundu States in Angola

Joseph C. Miller

How small-scale and decentralized African political institutions developed into the large kingdoms so prominent in early African history has puzzled anthropologists and historians alike. This book approaches the question from a historical perspective, and shows that it was purely local conditions rather than external stimuli that moved kinsmen towards political centralization. £9.50

Zulu Zion

and some Swazi Zionists

Bengt Sundkler

Bengt Sundkler's Bantu Prophets in South Africa was a pioneering work in the life and ideology of Independent African Churches. In this new study he interprets them from a different point of view, and has concentrated on the history and the leading personalities of some of the churches, including that of the famous Isaiah Shembe. £8

A SHORT HISTORY OF AFRICA

Fifth Edition Revised by Roland Oliver and J. D. Page

Brief, comprehensive, updated classic in African history. Oliver and Page have drawn on archaeology, oral tradition, language relationships, social institutions, and material cultures to review the continent's development from prehistoric to modern times. The New York Times called it "authoritative ... absorbing ... a genuinely integrated work."

CONTRIBUTIONS

Contributions to the Journal are welcomed. They may be submitted in either English or French. They should not exceed about 6000 words (excluding footnotes), except with the prior approval of the Editors. A summary of the contents of the article, not exceeding about 300 words in length, should be attached on a separate sheet. Contributors are asked to observe closely the conventions listed in the Notes for Contributors, Vol. XV, pp. 173-4. It is essential that contributors observe these conventions, as the Journal now goes straight into page proof. This severely limits the number of corrections which are possible.

Page proofs will be sent, if necessary by airmail, to each contributor (or his nominee) provided that the Editors have been given an address through which he can be reached without delay. Corrections should be kept to the minimum, and should be corrections, not new material. If they are to be incorporated in the master proof corrected by the Editors, it is important that the contributor should return the page proofs, by airmail if necessary, to the Editor named when they are sent out (and not to the Cambridge University Press), within ten days of his receipt of them.

Contributors of articles and review articles receive 25 free separates. Additional separates may be obtained at reasonable cost, provided that they are ordered before publication on the special form sent out with the page proofs.

All contributions and books for review should be addressed to The Editors, The Journal of African History, School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London, London, W.C.1.
