Published since 1976, the Art Libraries Journal is the leading international quarterly on art documentation and librarianship, with contributions from key specialists in the profession, and also archivists, curators and art historians. Most issues cover a wide spread of relevant subjects, but special ones focus on specific themes, such as digitisation, museum libraries, ephemera or copyright, or particular countries or regions.

The Art Libraries Journal is part of enhanced personal membership or institutional membership of ARLIS/UK & Ireland. Annual subscriptions and individual issues are also available without membership of ARLIS. Individual ALJ issues cost £14/$28 each (£13/$26 each for ARLIS members). Trauma and aesthetic transformation in the virtual feminist museum

Griselda Pollock

'Once again, the meticulous, detailed respect she shows towards her chosen women artists is matched by a sustained theoretical scrutiny, both of which have become the hallmark of her unique feminist intervention into our understanding of images.'

Jacqueline Rose, Professor of English at Queen Mary, University of London

In closely-read case studies, we encounter artworks by Gian Lorenzo Bernini, Ana Mendieta, Louise Bourgeois, Alina Szapocznikow, Anna Maria Maiolino, Vera Frenkel, Sarah Kofman and Chantal Akerman to explore trauma and bereavement, fatal illness, first and second generation Holocaust experience, migration, exile and the encounter with political horror and atrocity. This volume continues the conceptual innovations that have been the hallmark of Pollock's dedicated exploration of feminist interventions in art's histories.
