Interwar East Central Europe, 1918-1941

The Failure of Democracy-building, the Fate of Minorities

Edited by Sabrina P. Ramet, Norwegian University of Science and Technology

Series: Routledge Studies in Modern European History

This monograph focuses on the challenges which interwar regimes faced and how they coped with them in the aftermath of World War I, focusing especially on the failure to establish and stabilize democratic regimes, as well as on the fate of ethnic and religious minorities. Topics explored include the political systems and how they changed during the two decades under review, land reform, Church-state relations, and culture. Countries studied include Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Romania, Bulgaria, and Albania.

Essays in Honor of Marko Pavlyshyn

Edited by Alessandro Achilli, Serhy Yekelchyk, & Dmytro Yesypenko

Ukrainian Studies | July 2020 | 9781644693018

With these essays, the Ukrainian Studies community worldwide wishes to celebrate Marko Pavlyshyn on his 65th birthday. The many periods and texts analyzed reflect the multifariousness of Pavlyshyn's scholarship and the interest in literature as an instrument of social communication that he shares with the authors of this book.

Entangled Interactions between Religion and National Consciousness in Central and Eastern Europe

Edited by Yoko Aoshima

Lithuanian Studies without Borders | August 2020 | 9781644693568

This book elucidates the complicated relationship between religion and national consciousness in the modern world, shedding light on the various cases of Central and Eastern Europe. Through these analyses, authors show how religion, far from disappearing, strongly impacted on the emerging national consciousness.

The History of the Civil War in Tajikistan

Iraj Bashiri

Central Asian Studies | May 2020 | 9781644692875

In Tajikistan, the Soviets used inherent Tajik ideological, regional, and ethnic conflicts to move their affairs forward. In 1992, after enduring Soviet imposition for seventy years, the Tajiks reversed the process and toppled the Soviet power structure in Tajikistan. The volume traces the development of the conflict using primary Tajik sources.

The Lithuanian Metrica

History and Research

Arturas Dubonis, Darius Antanavicius, Raimonda Ragauskiene,
& Ramune Smigelskyte-Stukiene

Lithuanian Studies without Borders | June 2020 | 9781644693100

The book presents an analysis of the history of the Lithuanian Metrica—the chancellery books of the Lithuanian grand duke—from its formation in the mid-fifteenth century until today. A great deal of new factographic material is revealed, offering new answers to traditional questions on the history of the Lithuanian Metrica and formulating new objectives for future researchers.
