Victor Griffuelhes and French Syndicalism 1895–1922

Bruce Vandervort

Victor Griffuelhes was the first French labor leader of genuine working-class origins to achieve national status, serving as general secretary of the General Confederation of Labor from 1901 to 1909. In this first-rate biography of Griffuelhes, Bruce Vandervort has also furnished a fascinating summary of the influential French syndicalist movement, which dominated the pre-World War I CGT and inspired labor organizations in other countries.

Working People of California

Edited by DANIEL CORNFORD

“A fine example of the new labor history that has come of age since the 1960s. . . .
Cornford gives attention to both the urban and rural settings of labor history while selecting materials that highlight the plight of women, people of color, and unskilled workers of all groups.”—Choice

Studies in American Political Development

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Editors

Karen Orren, University of California, Los Angeles
Stephen Skowronek, Yale University

Studies in American Political Development publishes high quality scholarship covering American political change and institutional development from a historical perspective. Articles focus on government institutions and their social, economic and cultural environment. The journal features in-depth original articles, which allow scholars to elaborate on the complex patterns of state-society relations. These longer articles also encourage an interdisciplinary approach-- tying in relevant issues and related themes. In addition, SAPD recognizes the importance of comparative politics to the study of American institutions.
