NOTES TO CONTRIBUTORS

Modern Asian Studies is concerned with the history, geography, politics, sociology, literature, economics and social anthropology of South Asia, South-East Asia, China and Japan. Contributions should be based on original research or field-work.

All articles (text, notes and references) must be clearly typed in double spacing throughout, including footnotes, on one side only of the paper—preferably A4. Two copies should be submitted. Spelling, dates, references and footnote numbers should be checked for accuracy. The use of diacritical marks, italics and capital letters should be kept to a minimum. References repeated in the footnotes should be by author and short title; or the Harvard system of citation may be used.

The title of the article and the author's name and affiliation should be typed on a separate page at the beginning of the article.

Tables should be clearly laid out and numbered consecutively. Vertical lines between columns should be omitted. All figures and totals should be checked for accuracy.

Maps and figures should be clearly legible in every detail. The spelling of place names should be consistent with that used in the text.

Every table, map and figure should have a title and at least one reference in the text to indicate its location.

First proofs only will be sent to the author who will be expected to return them to the Editor within three days. Excessive alterations and additions may be charged to the author.

Each author will receive twenty-five free offprints of his or her article and a copy of the part of the journal in which it appears.

Submission of an article will be taken to imply that it has not been previously published and that it is not on offer to any other publisher. In the interests of authors, copyright is normally assigned to Cambridge University Press. The editor welcomes expression of all shades of opinion, but responsibility for them rests with their authors.

All correspondence should be addressed to Dr Gordon Johnson, Wolfson College, Cambridge CB3 9BB, England.

CAMBODIA*Marie Alexandrine MartinCambodia*A Shattered SocietyTranslated by Mark W. McLeod*

Martin traces the evolution of post-World War II Cambodian politics and society, examining the disintegration of a once-peaceful nation. Interviews with peasants, refugees, politicians, and intellectuals, as well as exhaustive archival research, make this both a stirring ethnographic portrait and an exacting political analysis. £27.50 cloth

*Kären WigenThe Making of a Japanese Periphery, 1750-1920*JAPAN

Contending that Japan's industrial and imperial revolutions were also geographical revolutions, this interdisciplinary study analyzes the changing spatial order of the countryside in early modern Japan.

Twentieth-Century Japan: The Emergence of a World Power, £35.00 cloth

CHINA*Robert GardellaHarvesting Mountains*Fujian and the China Tea Trade, 1757-1937

Few commodities are as synonymous with any civilization as tea with China. Gardella analyzes the multifaceted influence of tea production and the tea trade upon Fujian, a premier tea-growing region, illuminating the economic, social, fiscal, and environmental ramifications of China's involvement with a dynamic world economy. £32.00 cloth, illustrated

HONG KONG*Nicole ConstableChristian Souls and Chinese Spirits*A Hakka Community in Hong Kong

How do the people of a village that is both Chinese and Christian reconcile the contradictions between their religious and ethnic identities? This ethnographic study explores the construction and changing meanings of ethnic identity in Hong Kong. £30.00 cloth

*Eugene F. IrschickDialogue and History*SOUTH INDIA*Constructing South India, 1795-1895

Irschick questions the conventional wisdom that knowledge about a colonial culture is unilaterally defined by its rulers. Focusing on nineteenth-century South India, he demonstrates that a society's view of its history results from a "dialogic process" involving all its constituencies. £36.00 cloth, £13.95 paper

THE INDIAN ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL HISTORY REVIEW

Editor: DHARMA KUMAR

The Indian Economic and Social History Review offers scholars a major forum for an interdisciplinary study of the social and economic history of India, and South Asia more generally. Articles published in this journal also cover other Asian countries and provide comparative perspectives with a wider geographic spread. The journal is periodically organised around a specific theme as a special number. In addition to research articles, the book review section often contains substantial review articles. Bibliographic surveys, which also cover material available in Indian languages, are a special feature.

The journal is published quarterly in March, June, September and December.

Recent articles in IESHR:

JANAKI NAIR Production Regimes, Cultural Processes: Industrial Labour in Mysore

SANJAY SHARMA The 1837-38 Famine in U.P.: Some Dimensions of Popular Action
