Economics & Philosophy

Editors

Giacomo Bonanno, University of California, Davis, USA

Martin van Hees, University of Groningen, Netherlands

Christian List, London School of Economics, UK

The disciplines of economics and philosophy each possess their own special analytical methods, whose combination is powerful and fruitful. Each discipline can be enriched by the other. Economics & Philosophy aims to promote their mutual enrichment by publishing articles and book reviews in all areas linking these subjects. Topics include the methodology and epistemology of economics, the foundations of decision theory and game theory, the nature of rational choice in general, historical work on economics with a philosophical purpose, ethical issues in economics, the use of economic techniques in ethical theory, and many other subjects.

Think

Published for the Royal Institute of Philosophy

Editor

Stephen Law, Heythrop College, University of London, UK

Think has been created to forge a direct link between contemporary philosophy and the widest possible readership. The central aim of the journal is to provide to a very wide audience – encompassing undergraduates, 'A' level students, students in further education and the general public – highly accessible and engaging writing by philosophers pre-eminent in their fields. Think also aims to counter the popular impression that philosophy is pointless and wholly detached from everyday life. Its contributors sometimes expose some of the bad philosophy which currently passes as accepted wisdom in certain circles (e.g. religious, scientific, anthropological, etc). Perhaps most importantly, Think gives contemporary philosophers the chance to help nurture and encourage philosophers of the next generation.

Philosophy

Published for the Royal Institute of Philosophy

Editor

Anthony O'Hear, University of Buckingham, UK

Philosophy is the journal of the Royal Institute of Philosophy, which was founded in 1925 to build bridges between specialist philosophers and a wider educated public. The journal continues to fulfil a dual role: it is one of the leading academic journals of philosophy, but it also serves the philosophical interests of specialists in other fields (law, language, literature and the arts, medicine, politics, religion, science, education, psychology, history) and those of the general reader. Contributors are required to avoid needless technicality of language and presentation. Each issue contains an editorial on a topic of philosophical or public interest, and a 'New Books' section.

The institutional subscription includes two supplements and a subscription to Think.

Submission Guidelines

All contributions should be typed on A4 (or equivalent) paper and double spaced. Any form of annotation and referencing may be used for the original submission, but accepted papers must be revised to conform to Utilitas house style. A copy of the style sheet is available from the editor on request. Typescripts will not be returned. Authors are responsible for observing the laws of copyright when quoting or reproducing material, and for any reproduction fees involved. Authors submitting a paper do so on the understanding that, if accepted for publication, exclusive copyright in the paper shall be assigned to the publishers. In consideration for assignment of copyright, the publisher will supply the author with two free copies of the journal. Notwithstanding the assignment of copyright in their contribution, all contributors retain certain non-transferable rights, provided appropriate acknowledgement is made to Utilitas as the original place of publication. These rights are outlined in detail on the web at <http://titles.cambridge.org/journals/uti>. The Assignment of Copyright form is available from the editorial office.

Submissions should be sent to: All submissions, including book reviews, must be made through the journals Manuscript Central site: <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/uti>

Books for review should be sent to: Prof. David Weinstein (Reviews), Department of Political Science, Wake Forest University, Box 7568 Winston-Salem, NC 27109, USA.

Further information is available in the Notes for Contributors page at <http://titles.cambridge.org/journals/uti>.
