

The Kindly Flame

A Study of the Third and Fourth Books of Spenser's Faerie Queene

by THOMAS P. ROCHE, JR.

Scholars have often felt that in Books III and IV of the Faerie Queene Spenser was not in control of the structure. Thomas P. Roche, Jr., seeks to dispel this view. He shows by a close examination of the text that all four books have a logical structure, and that the apparently randomly selected episodes form one complex allegory. 'Mr. Roche is not only learned but also thoughtful and sensitive; his reading of Spenser's allegory is beautifully controlled; he gives a fresh and convincing interpretation.'

—J. Lyndon Shanley.

These ten volumes (available as a set or separately) constitute an almost unsurpassed bibliography relating to drama and theater up through the mid-19th century. There are almost 15,000 separate citations which, though strongest in French plays of all periods, cover also the English, Oriental, Greek, Latin and neo-Latin, Italian, Spanish, German, and other European theaters.

Included are collections of manuscripts, prints, and drawings. Also works on ballet and the burlesque and satiric theater. There are two volumes of indices: one with the original work, and the whole buttressed by an analytic index of almost 500 pages published by Rothschild. The De Filippi and Pont de Vesle volumes augment and complement the main Soleinne catalogue.

Bibliographers seem to be unanimous in their general estimate of this collection: "A very useful collection from ancient times through the first part of the 19th century. Particularly strong in French theater and including works of many European countries." (Winchell, R606). Archer Taylor in Book Catalogues: their varieties and uses (1957) (pp. 122-123) equates the Soleinne catalogue with the Hoe, Huth, Ashley, and Pforzheimer collections in its specialized field. "The Soleinne catalogue, an excellent bibliography of French drama, is . . . an indispensable aid . . ." "Books on theatrical history in the Pont de Vesle library . . . passed into the Soleinne library . . . one of the chief sources . . ." (ibid., p. 135). "Catalogue of magnificent library . . . most extensive listing." Cabeen, Bibliog. French Lit. iv:450. Cabeen describes the Brunet index volume: "indispensable not only for the Soleinne catalogue, but also as rapid checklist . . ." (ibid., p.451) ". . . les plus belles collections connues de pièces de théâtre anciennes et de livres relatifs au théâtre." Stein, Bibliog. Generale, p. 279. Besterman (3rd ed.) col. 1047. Northrup, #1932.1; 1932.2; 1933.
