The Sidney Hillman Foundation
congratulates

Dorothy Sue Cobble

Professor of History and Labor Studies
Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey

on winning the

2010 Sol Stetin Award for Labor History

Judges

Joshua B. Freeman

David Montgomery

Joan Suarez

Sol Stetin (1910-2005), as President of the Textile Workers Union of America, spearheaded the ambitious campaigns to organize southern textile workers, including the 17-year organizing drive at J. P. Stevens. He also played a pivotal role in the founding of the American Labor Museum at The Botto House, the nation's first museum dedicated to the labor movement.

The Sidney Hillman Foundation established this award to commemorate Sol Stetin and his passion for preserving the stories of workers' lives.

CAMBRIDGE LIBRARY COLLECTION

Books of enduring scholarly value

In the spirit of Cambridge University Press's continued commitment to innovation and enterprise, the Cambridge Library Collection launched in July 2009, making an initial group of 475 out-of-print books available again. Another 1,000 will follow by the end of 2009 and 3,000 titles a year will be added as the program continues.

Drawing from the world-renowned collections in the Cambridge University Library, these books are carefully selected by experts in each subject area because of their scholarly importance or as landmarks in the history of their academic discipline.

Cambridge University Press is using state-of-the-art scanning machines to capture the contents of each book. The files are processed to give a consistently clear, crisp image, and the books finished to the high-quality standard for which the press is recognized around the world. The latest print-on-demand technology ensures that the books will remain available indefinitely.

The Cambridge Library Collection will revive books of enduring scholarly value across a wide range of disciplines in the humanities, social sciences, science and technology.
