

Find a Mentor or Become a Mentor

The APSA Mentoring Program is an opportunity for all political scientists to network and share experience, advice and insights about career planning, scholarship, and a variety of professional issues such as:

- Selecting a dissertation committee
- Publishing and research
- Non-academic careers
- Life as junior faculty member
- Balancing family and work

APSA seeks mentors that provide professional advice to undergraduates, graduate students, and junior faculty in the profession, specifically in non-academic careers and international relations, and to mentor Ralph Bunche Scholars (RBSI) and/or APSA Minority Fellows (MFP).

Matching Process

APSA accepts mentor requests for short-term (one semester) and long-term (one academic year) mentoring. However, matched mentors and mentees are encouraged to continue the relationship beyond the official APSA mentoring period if they find it mutually beneficial.

The APSA staff makes mentor matches twice a year: once at the beginning of the fall semester (for short term and long term matches) and once at the beginning of the spring semester (for short term matches). Matches are made first-come, first-served based on suitability of the match profile and mentor availability.

THE IMPOSSIBLE OFFICE?

THE HISTORY OF THE BRITISH PRIME MINISTER

SIR ANTHONY SELDON

Assisted by Jonathan Meakin and Illias Thoms

Marking the third centenary of the office of Prime Minister, this book explains how and why it has endured longer than any other democratic political office. Sir Anthony Seldon, historian of Number 10 Downing Street, explores the lives and careers of our great Prime Ministers, discussing which have been most effective and why.

'A brilliant, panoramic survey of the fifty-five individuals who have been prime minister since Robert Walpole - and their families too... A must read.'

Andrew Adonis, former transport minister, education minister and Head of No. 10 Policy Unit, and author of Ernest Bevin, Labour's Churchill

'Three hundred years of one of the world's most difficult jobs is worth some reflection - and there is no better way to go about that than to read this excellent book... There is much here to inform everyone from the general reader to the political addict.'

William Hague, former Leader of the Opposition, First Secretary of State, Foreign Secretary, and Leader of the House of Commons

THE STUPIDITY OF WAR

AMERICAN FOREIGN POLICY AND THE CASE
FOR COMPLACENCY

JOHN MUELLER

“A characteristically bold and sweeping assault on the key tenets of American national security policy. Even readers who do not agree will be challenged by a well-crafted and thoroughly documented argument.”

Martha Crenshaw, Stanford University & Wesleyan University

“Unfailingly incisive, witty, original, prescient, and constructively contrarian. True to form, this case for complacency will shake you out of your complacency on American military policy.”

Steven Pinker, Harvard University
