

Editorial

I am very pleased that Professor Padma Shukla has agreed to become Joint Editor. Padma has been an Associate Editor for some years, during which his high reputation and active involvement in many areas of plasma physics have been a great asset. His closer involvement with the Journal will be of great value in ensuring that it remains a valued resource within the plasma physics community.

Alan Cairns