

Legal Expense Insurance

The European Experience in Financing Legal Services

WERNER PFENNIGSTORF

Research Attorney, American Bar Foundation

Legal expense insurance has been widely available in Europe for more than fifty years on a commercial basis as a distinct line of private insurance. This monograph explores the history of the business and identifies factors in the legal environment that help explain the differences between the European and the American situations. It describes the essential coverages and other contract provisions of European legal expense policies and outlines the regulatory problems that have emerged over the years.
