

British History

New Books in

Gladstone

British Political Biography Series

E. J. Feuchtwanger

In recent years, an exceptional wealth of historical writing and scholarship has advanced our understanding of the Victorians and their politics. This new biography gives an up-to-date account of Gladstone's political life in the light of all the recent evidence that has surfaced since the last major biography on Gladstone was published some twenty years ago.

October 1975 250 pages $13.95 (tentative), cloth

Lord Salisbury

British Political Biography Series

Robert Taylor

A number of specialized books have dealt with aspects of Lord Salisbury's lengthy career, but this concise, interpretive biography is the first complete study to make use of new materials which have become available since the publication of his daughter's incomplete Life in the 1920's.

October 1975 250 pages $12.95 (tentative), cloth

The Nineteenth Century

Modern British Foreign Policy Series

Paul M. Hayes

This important new book serves as a valuable introduction to the study of British foreign policy. Based on the personal papers and memoirs of notable figures, the study lays great stress on the influence of personality in the shaping of policy at a time when Britain dominated world affairs.

October 1975 300 pages $16.95 (tentative), cloth

The Politics of Reappraisal, 1918-1939

Gillian Peele and Chris Cook, editors

Ten notable scholars of history and political science present their views regarding politics in Britain during the twenty years of peace between the two World Wars. Articles cover such key events as the General Strike, the Conservative revolt over India, the hunger marches, and the "Irish Question."

October 1975 250 pages $15.95 (tentative), cloth

Sources in British Political History

Volume I, A Guide to the Archives of Selected Organizations and Societies

Volume II, A Guide to the Papers of Selected Public Servants

These are the first two volumes of a three-volume set that seeks to uncover the major sources of research for students of contemporary British history. The result provides historian and student with an invaluable guide so comprehensive in scale as to be the first of its kind.

October 340 pages $16.95 per volume (tentative), cloth

Popular Protest and Public Order

Six Studies in British History, 1790-1920

R. Quinault and J. Stevenson

The editors have brought together major essays that reflect the great diversity and controversy that exists in the study of popular protest and the maintenance of public order. Each essay considers the details of a specific local situation but raises questions of far wider relevance.

Published 1975 256 pages $16.95, cloth

St. Martin's Press

P.O. Box 5352

New York, New York 10017

The Harlaxton Prize

The University of Evansville and Albion are pleased to announce that the recipient of the first Harlaxton Prize award recognizing the author of the article judged to be the best in volume six of Albion is Professor Roger B. Manning of Cleveland State University. Dr. Manning, Professor of History and Chairman of the department, was awarded the prize of $200 for his article "Patterns of Violence in Early Tudor Enclosure Riots" which appeared in volume six, number two (Summer, 1974). The prize committee for this award consisted of: President Wallace Graves (Evansville); Joseph O. Baylen (Georgia State University); Charles F. Mullett (Emeritus, University of Missouri); Philip P. Poirier (The Ohio State University); and John W. Wilkes (New York University).

Current Research in British Studies

The seventh edition, 1975, edited by Phyllis W. Bultmann and William A. Bultmann, and published for the Conference on British Studies by Kansas State University, is now available. This work supersedes the 1968 edition; it lists the research projects in progress by over 1000 North American scholars. Current Research can be ordered from: Military Affairs, Department of History, Kansas State University, Manhattan, Kansas 66506; $9.00 postpaid.

Special Notice to C.B.S. Members

After notice transmitted by mail, the General Meeting of the Conference on British Studies held on April 5, 1975 at Barnard College, Columbia University voted:

1. To raise annual dues from $5 to $8 (to begin with the dues year December 1, 1975 to November 30, 1976).
2. To allow $1 of the dues to be transmitted to the member's regional organization.
3. To permit members to subscribe to the Journal of British Studies at a special rate of $7 transmitted with the dues.
4. To eliminate from the C.B.S. by-laws the provision allowing two years before membership becomes delinquent.

Bentley B. Gilbert
Executive Secretary, C.B.S.

