Harpers Ferry Armory and the New Technology

The Challenge of Change

By MERRITT ROE SMITH. Focusing on the day-to-day operations of the U.S. armory at Harpers Ferry from 1798 to 1861, this book shows what the "new technology" of mechanized production meant in terms of organization, management, and worker morale. Professor Smith's account challenges the commonly held view that Americans have always been eagerly receptive to new technological advances. $15.00

Banking Reform and the Federal Reserve

By ROBERT CRAIG WEST. Offering new perspectives on the early years of the Federal Reserve system, Professor West evaluates the banking reform movement and its results. He clearly demonstrates the relationship between the evolution of monetary ideas and the evolution of an organized structure. $14.50

ENTERPRISE AND NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

ESSAYS IN CANADIAN BUSINESS AND ECONOMIC HISTORY
Edited by GLENN PORTER AND ROBERT CUFF

These essays deal with a wide range of important topics in the interaction of business, government, and society in Canada. Their value is two-fold. As careful explorations of Canadian history, they provide important insights into the Canadian past. But the issues they treat are still with us, and these essays make important contributions to the continuing debate over such enduring issues as the mainsprings of national identity, the impact of foreign influence on the economy, the search for economic growth, and the optimum relationship between federal and provincial governments in shaping national development.

These essays appeared originally in Business History Review. Contributors: Glenn Porter, Christopher Armstrong, H. V. Nelles, Michael Bliss, T. W. Acheson, Stephen Scheinberg, Patricia E. Roy, Alan Wilson. 138 pp. $2.50/$6.95.
