

Erratum

A whole-of-population study of the prevalence and patterns of criminal offending in people with schizophrenia and other mental illness – ERRATUM

V. A. Morgan, F. Morgan, G. Valuri, A. Ferrante, D. Castle and A. Jablensky

doi:10.1017/S0033291712002887. Published online by Cambridge University Press, 13 December 2012.

The publisher apologizes for errors introduced into the key of Figure 2 in this article (Morgan et al. 2012). The lines for ‘Schizophrenia’ and ‘No psychiatric illness’ were accidentally transposed. The correct Figure 2 is given below.

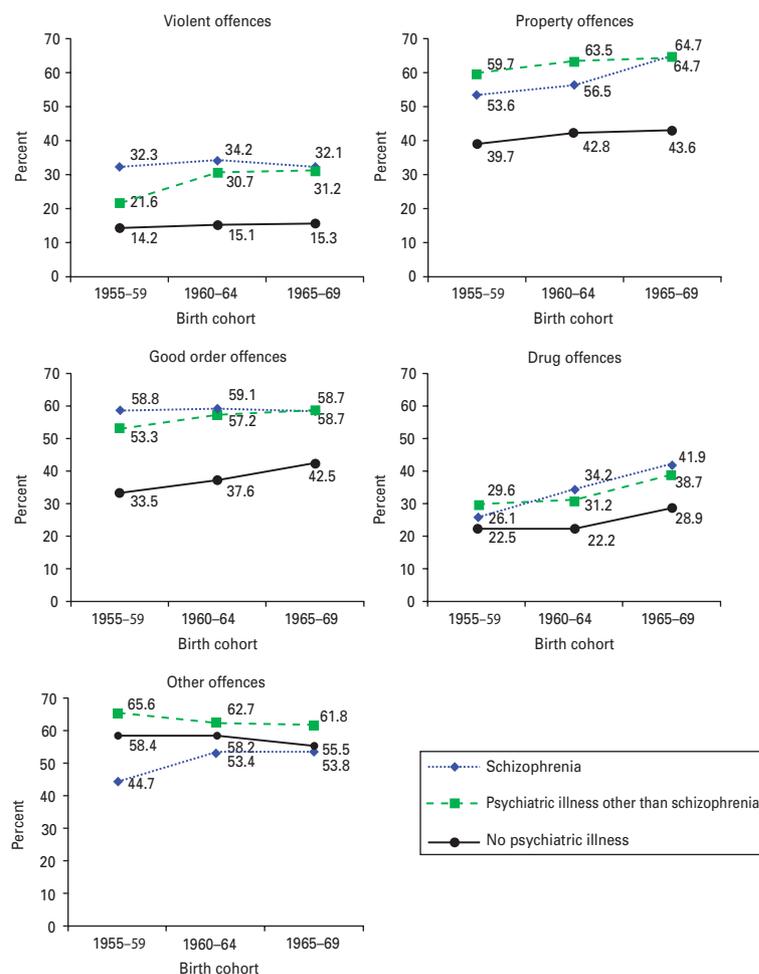

Fig. 2. Proportion of offenders arrested up to the end of 1996 within each mental health status category (schizophrenia, psychiatric illness other than schizophrenia, no recorded psychiatric illness) and birth cohort (1955–1959, 1960–1964 and 1965–1969) by type of offence.

Reference

Morgan VA, Morgan F, Valuri G, Ferrante A, Castle D and Jablensky A (2012). A whole-of-population study of the prevalence and patterns of criminal offending in people with schizophrenia and other mental illness. Psychological Medicine doi:10.1017/S00332917120002887.