Awards for the Presentation of Heritage Research 2005

Is your fascinating research buried in specialist journals?

It is vital for the heritage's future that we do more to present and explain our work to the wider public, to increase their understanding and enjoyment and the value they place on the heritage.

The Royal Archaeological Institute, English Heritage, Cadw, Historic Scotland, the Environment and Heritage Service (an agency within DOE (NI) ) and the Department of the Environment, Heritage and Local Government (Republic of Ireland) are co-sponsoring this year's competition at the British Association's Festival of Science in Dublin from 5-9 September 2005. Its purpose is to encourage presentation to a wider audience of recent research on British and Irish archaeology, historic buildings and heritage conservation.

Three awards are offered: a first prize of £1500, a second prize of £500 and an under-30 prize of £500. Entrants are asked to submit a written summary of their presentation by 6 May 2005. Short-listed finalists will be invited to speak at the awards session at the Festival of Science. The judges will place particular weight on the clarity of presentation to an informed but non-specialist audience, and on the interest and quality of the underlying research.

For further details and an entry form, please contact: Sebastian Payne, English Heritage, 23 Savile Row, London W1S 2ET (or by e-mail: sebastian.payne@english-heritage.org.uk). The competition is open to all, whether professional or amateur.

Notes for Contributors

Antiquity* aims to report new archaeological research, methods and issues of international significance in plain language to a broad academic and professional readership.

We ask prospective authors to consult previous issues of the journal and the full Notes for Contributors on our website at <http://antiquity.ac.uk/contnotes.html>.

Submissions for publication in the JOURNAL should be sent with a disc and hard copy to The Editor, Antiquity, King's Manor, York, YO1 7EP, UK, or by e-mail to editor@antiquity.ac.uk.

Text should be submitted in English in MS Word 2000 or a compatible program and have a maximum length of 6000 words. Please indicate the corresponding author. References should be in the Harvard format (Antiquity does not use footnotes or end-notes). For initial consideration, figures may be embedded in the Word file or submitted as low-resolution jpeg files, but please note our publication image requirements.

Papers submitted to the journal are peer-reviewed by two or more referees. The Editor aims to make a decision on whether the paper is to be accepted within four to six months of receipt.

Authors whose papers are declined are notified via e-mail by the editor, and we can normally pass on part or all of the referees' reports to assist feedback.

Authors whose papers are accepted may be asked to send an updated, revised text and will need to send figures of publication quality. These should be sent as hard copy photographs or drawings or as TIFF files at 600 dpi (colour or monochrome photographs) and EPS files at 1200 dpi (line drawings) on a CD-ROM or Zip disk. Authors may be asked if we can mount long tables and other data on our website.

Authors will be asked to contribute towards the cost of publishing colour images. The charge is £100 per page with colour images.

Submissions for publication in the PROJECT GALLERY on the website (<http://antiquity.ac.uk/ProjGall/>) should be e-mailed to editor@antiquity.ac.uk as attachments. Text should be in MS Word and have a maximum length of 800 words. Figures (colour or monochrome, maximum of 6 pictures) should be jpeg files at 72 dpi. Submissions for the Project Gallery are not peer-reviewed but the Editor may request changes before a submission is accepted. Authors will be asked to check their page before it goes live online.
