Archaeological Reports is now also available to private subscribers to the American Journal of Archaeology at a special rate of £6 or $12 (the latter includes bank charges). This is the result of an agreement between the Council of the Hellenic Society and the Managing Committee of the British School at Athens, and the Governing Board of the Archaeological Institute of America. AR is not normally obtainable separately on a subscription basis, and subscribers to the AJA who wish to take advantage of this arrangement should write to the Secretary, The Hellenic Society, 31–34 Gordon Square, London WC1H 0PP, U.K. A limited number of copies of this issue are available; to receive the next issue (1988–89) readers should subscribe by 1st July 1989.

Archaeological Reports is published by the Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies and the British School at Athens, for their subscribers. It is now also available to subscribers to the American Journal of Archaeology (see facing page) and to members of the Society for the Promotion of Byzantine Studies under similar terms. Members of the public can purchase copies from the Secretary, The Society for the Promotion of Hellenic Studies, 31–34 Gordon Square, London WC1H 0PP, U.K.

'Archaeology in Greece', compiled annually by the Director of the British School, is the only account of all recent archaeological work in Greece in the English language. It is supplemented each year by reports from other parts of the ancient Greek and Byzantine world: South Italy, Sicily, Sardinia, Cyprus, Asia Minor, the Black Sea and North Africa are covered at regular intervals.

Illness prevented Mr D. Ridgway from submitting his report on South Italy and Sardinia, which was to have appeared in this issue; it will now be published next year. Also in the next issue, we hope to have a report on the Black Sea area, by Dr J. G. F. Hind.

The cover illustration shows a cup attributed to the Euergides painter, found at Larisa during rescue excavations in 1979.

We are very grateful indeed to the A. G. LEVENTIS FOUNDATION for assistance with the cost of printing this volume of Archaeological Reports.
