

CHRONIQUE — ANNOUNCEMENTS

- (1) Société britannique de Philosophie de langue française. Le deuxième Colloque de la Société, ayant pour thème

Philosophie et Littérature,

aura lieu à Weeks Hall (Imperial College, London, S.W.7) du vendredi 29 mars au dimanche 31 mars, 1963. Des travaux seront présentés par:

John Cruikshank (Sussex)
Gilbert Gadoffre (Manchester et Sussex)
Prof. Henri Gouhier (Paris)
Harold Osborne (Londres)
Mary Warnock (Oxford)

Pour plus de renseignements, prière de s'adresser à: The Hon. Secretary, Axel Stern, The University, Hull, England.

- (2) The Canadian Philosophical Association exists to promote philosophical discussion and research in Canada, and to represent the general interests of the philosophical profession in relation to governmental and other agencies. Besides being responsible for the publication of Dialogue, it holds an annual congress for the presentation of papers by members. The Association, like the journal, is bi-lingual in all its activities. Membership is open to all interested persons; full membership to teachers of philosophy in institutions of higher learning, student membership to students of philosophy at such institutions, and associate membership to others. Student and associate members must be proposed for membership by a full member; they may take part in all the Association's activities, but do not have voting privileges. Application for membership must be made to the Secretary of the Association, who will send application forms on request. Interested persons may either write direct to the Secretary (Professor Norman Brown, Department of Philosophy, Memorial University, St John's, Newfoundland) or may, when subscribing to Dialogue, request the Editor to forward their names.
- (3) Les directeurs de DIALOGUE remercient de tout cœur les personnes et les institutions qui ont aidé la revue de leurs contribu-
