

The Great Gap
Inequality and the Politics of Redistribution in Latin America
 Edited by Merike Blofield

"I find The Great Gap to be the best and most important contribution to the study of Latin America written for quite some time."
 —Guillermo O'Donnell,
 University of Notre Dame

Too Young to Run?
A Proposal for an Age Amendment to the U.S. Constitution
 John Seery

"Seery engages the important but neglected subject of the American age qualifications for public office and does so in an extraordinarily broad-gauged way that sheds a great deal of light on American democracy more generally."
 —Robert Bennett,
 Northwestern University School of Law

American Immigration After 1996
The Shifting Ground of Political Inclusion
 Kathleen R. Arnold

"This book is extremely well researched and cited. A must have for university libraries and highly recommended for graduate students and policy makers."
 —I. Coronado, Choice

Infinite Autonomy
The Divided Individual in the Political Thought of G. W. F. Hegel and Friedrich Nietzsche
 Jeffrey Church

"In a measured yet fascinating way, Jeffrey Church draws upon Hegel and Nietzsche to develop a compelling notion of the 'historical individual.' He begins to open up a theoretical path toward a notion of individuality that is less fraught with contradiction than the liberal notion of the self, and toward a notion of community that is less anti-individualistic than most communitarian visions. This book will thus pose a significant challenge to liberals and communitarians alike, but it is likely to appeal to thoughtful readers in all camps."

—Michael Allen Gillespie,
 Duke University

The Time of Popular Sovereignty
Process and the Democratic State
 Paulina Ochoa Espejo

"In this unusual and original work, Paulina Ochoa Espejo analyzes a foundational concept of all modern political thought: the people. She brings aesthetic as well as metaphysical theories of process to bear on this concept, resulting in some astonishing observations about temporality and 'the people.'"

—Seyla Benhabib, Yale University

Bankrupt Representation and Party System Collapse
 Jana Morgan

Winner, 2012 Van Cott Award, Political Institutions section, Latin American Studies Association

"By demonstrating the importance of programmatic competition for securing party-society linkages, she makes a major contribution to our understanding of why some party systems respond more effectively than others to the challenges they encounter."
 —Kenneth M. Roberts,
 Cornell University

The Truman Administration and Bolivia
Making the World Safe for Liberal Constitutional Oligarchy
 Glenn J. Dorn

"With due attention to the intrigues of Bolivian politics and the tricky diplomacy of tin, Glenn Dorn, packing a justified moral outrage, tackles the limits of 'good neighborliness' in inter-American affairs when greed is in the mix. This crisply written study should stand as a warning to those who bleed natural resources from poor countries without a care for the consequences."
 —Alan McPherson,
 University of Oklahoma

The Fourth Enemy
Journalism and Power in the Making of Peronist Argentina, 1930-1955
 James Cane

"In this book, James Cane examines one of the most controversial aspects of Juan Perón's government in the 1940s and 1950s: his control of the press. Perón's strategy, Cane convincingly argues, was actually the culmination of political practices initiated in the 1930s and of a process triggered by the modernization of the printed press. This is a significant contribution to Argentine cultural and political history."
 —Ariel de la Fuente,
 Purdue University

Sustaining Civil Society
Economic Change, Democracy, and the Social Construction of Citizenship in Latin America
 Philip Oxhorn

"Sustaining Civil Society combines a thoughtful, critical theoretical approach to civil society with case studies— informed by extensive fieldwork—of Chile, Bolivia, and Mexico. This book will become the definitive reference for studies of civil society and democracy in Latin America and an essential tool for broader comparative work."

Political Science Jobs New eJournal from APSA

In July 2012, APSA launched a new monthly and online journal focused on jobs in political science. Political Science Jobs contains active job listings from APSA's eJobs database. The combination of the new online journal and the daily APSA eJobs database provides a continued platform for a transparent, efficient, and ethically grounded political science labor market. APSA has maintained an open academic job market for many years, and this new journal forms the next phase of these efforts.

Format and Frequency

Political Science Jobs includes all active positions in a monthly downloadable PDF and link to the searchable eJobs system online.

APSA Members

APSA members (individuals and departments) have free access to the online journal as a benefit of membership. All members also receive free access to the daily PDF of eJobs listings.

Replacing PS Supplement with Political Science Jobs

Political Science Jobs replaces the former PS Supplement of job listings. The April 2012 PS Supplement was the last published volume since establishing the journal in 2008 to fulfill federal regulatory requirements tied to international hiring requirements. These federal rules recently changed to recognize online or web-based professional journals as an eligible outlet.

The Rise of the President's Permanent Campaign

Why Moderates Make the Best Presidents

George Washington to Barack Obama

Second Edition with a new Afterword

Gil Troy

"Moderate does not equal namby-pamby, and extremism is not an American norm; instead, the Founders 'celebrated modesty, balance, self-denial, and rationality,' none of which seems abundant in politics today. Against those who hold that America has become bitterly divided between red and blue, Troy observes that 'a rich web of common cultural, political, economic, and social ties' tightly binds the nation. Those sick to death of extremist rhetoric should be assured by Troy's conclusions."—Kirkus

Truman's Triumphs The 1948 Election and the Making of Postwar America

Andrew E. Busch

"The common wisdom about the election of 1948 is that it ranks as one of the classic surprises of electoral politics. Theodore Roosevelt and the American Political Tradition

Jean M. Yarbrough

"As biography, this extraordinary book offers a rich and compelling account of TR's life. As intellectual history, it supplies the best treatment to date of TR's own political thought, situating it within the framework of the various strands of progressivism. As political theory, it explores TR's political and constitutional ideas in the light of the thought of the founders and of Abraham Lincoln, assessing the strengths and weaknesses of TR as both a thinker and statesman. Yarbrough has pulled off the perfect intellectual trifecta."

The Failure of Popular Sovereignty

Slavery, Manifest Destiny, and the Radicalization of Southern Politics

Christopher Childers

"By analyzing the evolution of southerners' attitudes toward popular sovereignty from the 1770s to the Civil War, Childers has found much that is fresh and important to say about this venerable topic. A most welcome contribution indeed."—Michael Holt, author of The Fate of Their Country

State of War

The Political Economy of American Warfare, 1945–2011

Paul A. C. Koistinen

"Koistinen's multi-volume study of the political economy of American warfare represents a singular scholarly achievement. His capstone volume manifests the qualities that have defined the project throughout: comprehensive coverage based on massive research yielding judicious and persuasive conclusions. The word may be overused but it fits here: awesome."
