BOOK REVIEWS

Published since 1968, Central European History is the primary venue for scholarly exchange and debate of central Europe's diverse and complex history. The journal publishes on a range of topics, bringing research articles, book and film reviews and review essays, discussion fora, and other forms of scholarly writing to a broad audience of specialists and non-specialists in four issues per year. Spanning the medieval to the modern period, CEH offers a space for creative approaches to understanding the region's past, while continually reassessing its conceptual and geographic boundaries and their representations. CEH publishes work related to German-speaking and German-identified peoples, as well as work on non-German-speakers in the historic states and regions of central Europe, including the Habsburg lands, Austria, and Switzerland. The journal welcomes submissions that expand and de-territorialize the region's historic frames of reference, taking identity, language, and space—and the complex links and ruptures among them—seriously. CEH perennially engages anew the old question, “what and where is central Europe?”

Editorial Policy

Central European History welcomes manuscripts using all approaches to history and dealing with all historical periods. Because space is limited, the journal does not accept articles that have been or will be published elsewhere. Most research articles are 10–12,000 words, including notes. Manuscripts submitted to Central European History should not be under consideration by any other journal. If the Editor learns that an article Central European History is considering is also under submission at another journal, Central European History's consideration will cease. Book Reviews range from 800–1000 words and are commissioned by the Associate Editor. Unsolicited book reviews are not accepted. Authors may submit articles in languages other than English but only after consulting the Editor. Some financial support may be available to defray the costs of translation into English if a manuscript is accepted.

All article manuscripts should be submitted via ScholarOne (<https://mc.manuscript-central.com/ccc>). Authors should please take care to remove any information that might identify them as author, and follow the prompts in ScholarOne to make their manuscripts anonymous. The entire text of all manuscripts, including footnotes and headings, must be prepared in double-spaced typescript with generous margins to allow for copyediting. Footnotes must be numbered consecutively.

All materials will be edited to conform with The Chicago Manual of Style in matters of punctuation, capitalization, and format. Final decisions on style remain with the editor.
