PROGRESS IN PSYCHIATRY

A New Series from The American Psychiatric Association in Association with Cambridge

Treatment of Affective Disorders in the Elderly

Edited by C. A. SHAMOIAN

Based on material presented at the 1985 APA Annual Meeting in Dallas, Texas, this book presents current approaches to the biology, diagnosis, treatment and treatment outcome of depression in the elderly, and as such is the most authoritative recent work on this important clinical field.

The Borderline: Current Empirical Research

Edited by T. H. McGLASHAN

Ever since specifiable diagnostic criteria for borderline personality disorders were introduced in DSM-III, clinical research in this area has blossomed. This book offers a sampling of the central and most important current empirical research and helps to extend understanding of this common and perplexing clinical entity.

Premenstrual Syndrome: Current Findings and Future Direction

Edited by H. J. OSOFSKY and S. J. BLUMENTHAL

This collection of current research and possible future development presents new information on baseline values of physiological, psychological and cognitive assessments during the menstrual cycle, and gives new data relevant to clinical conceptualisation, evaluation and treatment.

1986 95 pp. 0 521 33276 1 £15.00 net

The Psychiatric Implications of Menstruation

Edited by JUDITH H. GOLD

A comprehensive update of the pertinent research in this field which provides a diagnostic schema, a review of treatment methods and suggestions for further research.

Life Events and Psychiatric Disorders

Controversial Issues

Edited by H. KATSCHNIG

This collection of essays gives a critical evaluation of current research on the relationship between life stress and the origin of functional mental disorders. Depression is especially emphasised, and its division into a biological and a psychosocial type is considered.

1986 280 pp. 0 521 25595 1 £32.50 net

The Reality of Mental Illness

SIR MARTIN ROTH and JEROME KROLL

This book is psychiatry's reply to the diverse group of antipsychiatrists, that has made fashionable the view that mental illness is merely socially deviant behaviour. It establishes, that mental illness has been recognised in all cultures since the beginning of history and goes on to explore the philosophical and medical basis for psychiatry's diagnosis and treatment of mental illness.

Understanding Mental Retardation

EDWARD ZIGLER and ROBERT M. HODAPP

An up-to-date guide to current research and theory which draws on our knowledge of normal development to inform a discussion of the various aspects of retardation. The clear presentation and judicious examination of the available evidence will attract the attention of a wide audience.

Mental Disorder and Legal Control

PHILIP BEAN

The 1983 Mental Health Act (England and Wales) introduced far-reaching changes in the control of mentally disordered people. By examining these in terms of the admission of patients, their control in hospital and the community, and their rights as regards Consent to Treatment and legal redress, this series of essays covers topics of international importance.

The Clinical Roots of the Schizophrenia Concept

Translations of Seminal European Contributions on Schizophrenia

Edited by J. CUTTING and M. SHEPHERD

The original descriptions and ideas of those psychiatrists who established the concept of schizophrenia are of crucial importance in the continuing struggle to understand the condition. Here are collected the most important articles from Kraepelin to Janzarik, selected for their historical interest and contemporary relevance.

Victorian Lunacy

Richard M. Bucke and the Practice of late
Nineteenth-Century Psychiatry

S. E. D. SHORTT

Using the career of Richard M. Bucke at the London Asylum in Canada as its focus, this book explores the theory and practice of late nineteenth-century psychiatry. Psychiatric theory is discussed less as an objective body of biomedical knowledge than as a product of the social turmoil that characterized the final decades of the nineteenth century.

Law, Psychiatry and Morality

Essays and Analysis

ALAN A. STONE

Written specifically for legal and mental health care professionals, Dr. Stone's book attempts to clear up the many ambiguities in the relationship between law and psychiatry, and covers such issues as political misuse of psychiatry, psychology and violence, psychiatry and the U.S. courts, sexual exploitation by psychotherapists, and morality and psychiatry.

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

PAPERS Papers for publication should be addressed to the Editor, Professor Michael Shepherd, Institute of Psychiatry, De Crespigny Park, Denmark Hill, London SE5 8AF. Contributors should send at least three copies of the text, tables, and figures. Copies other than the first may be xeroxed. The S.I. system should be adopted for text and figures. A short synopsis of about 50 words should be provided at the beginning of each article. Foreign quotations and phrases should be followed by a translation. If necessary, guidelines for statistical presentation may be found in: Altman, D. G., Gore, S. M., Gardner, M. J. & Pocock, S. J. (1983). Statistical guidelines for contributors to medical journals. British Medical Journal 286, 1489–1493.

Submission of a paper will be held to imply that it contains original work that has not been previously published and that it is not being submitted for publication elsewhere.

In addition to longer articles, the Editor is prepared to accept preliminary and brief communications of between 1500 and 2500 words.

Manuscripts must be typewritten on one side of the paper in double-spacing with wide margins. The following information must be given on a single separate sheet: (1) title and short title for running head (not more than 100 characters); (2) authors' names, and (3) department in which work was done. Footnotes on the same sheet should list: (i) the authors' present addresses if different from departments in which work was done; (ii) name and address of the author to whom correspondence should be addressed; (iii) receipt of grants. Authors who would like a reprint address to be printed should include this on their manuscript.

REFERENCES (1) In the text these should follow the Harvard system – that is, name followed by date: Brown (1970). If there are more than two authors the first author's name followed by et al. should be used, even the first time that the reference appears. (2) The list of references should be typed in alphabetical order on a separate sheet and should appear as follows: Brown, J., Williams, E. & Wright, H. (1970). Treatment of heroin addiction. Psychological Medicine 1, 134–136. Journal titles should be given in full.

Books should be cited as follows: Brown, J. (1970). Psychiatric Research. Smith: Glasgow.

ILLUSTRATIONS Only essential figures and tables should be included. Photographs Unmounted photographs on glossy paper should be provided. Magnification scales, if necessary, should be lettered on these. Where possible, prints should be trimmed to column width (i.e. 70 mm). Diagrams These will usually be reduced to 70 mm wide. Lettering should be in either Letraset or stencil, and care should be taken that lettering and symbols are of comparable size. Illustrations should not be inserted in the text, they should be marked on the back with figure numbers, title of paper, and name of author. All photographs, graphs, and diagrams should be referred to as figures and should be numbered consecutively in the text in Arabic numerals. The legends for illustrations should be typed on a separate sheet. Tables Tables should be numbered consecutively in the text in Arabic numerals and each typed on a separate sheet.

PROOFS AND OFFPRINTS Page proofs will be sent to the senior author. Corrections other than printer's errors may be charged to the author. Fifty offprints of each paper are supplied free; additional offprints are available according to a scale of charges if they are ordered when the proof is returned.
