Journal of Global History addresses the main problems of global change over time, together with the diverse histories of globalization. It will also examine counter-currents to globalization, including those that have structured other spatial units. The journal will seek to transcend the dichotomy between 'the West and the rest', straddle traditional regional boundaries, relate material to cultural and political history, and overcome thematic fragmentation in historiography.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONTRIBUTORS

- 1 The Historical Journal publishes articles on all aspects of history since the fifteenth century.
- 2 All contributions, correspondence, and books for review should be sent to: The Editors, The Historical Journal, Faculty of History, West Road, Cambridge CB3 9EF. The e-mail address is hj@hist.cam.ac.uk. Fax: +(0) 1223 335968. Please mark faxes "for editors of Historical Journal". Tel No: +44(0) 1223 335347.
- 3 Articles should not exceed 10,000 words and Communications 5,000 words in length. Historiographical reviews should not exceed 8,000 words. Contributions must follow the layout and stylistic conventions of The Historical Journal. Detailed Instructions for Contributors should be consulted at <http://journals.cambridge.org/hj>
- 4 Three paper copies of all submissions (articles, communications, review articles, historiographical reviews, single reviews) should initially be submitted. Two of the copies should be anonymous. Receipt of submissions will be acknowledged by email; and authors will then usually be asked to submit an electronic copy as an email attachment.
- 5 Submission of material will be taken to attest that it is unpublished (even in a language other than English) and is not at present being considered for publication elsewhere. Upon acceptance of a paper, the author will be asked to assign copyright (on certain conditions) to Cambridge University Press.
- 6 The Journal is willing to consider unpublished articles submitted in languages other than English, and in such cases a short resumé (max. one page) in English should accompany the submission. Financial assistance may be offered by the Journal towards the costs of translation into English.
- 7 Figures must be submitted electronically, scanned at a minimum of 320 dpi and saved as either TIFF or EPS files; if you wish to compress them, use lossless compression software such as the LZW compression package. Illustrative material should be numbered as part of a sequence of figures. Figure captions are to be supplied on a separate sheet.
- 8 Contributors are responsible for obtaining permissions to reproduce all material for which they do not hold copyright for worldwide publication in all forms and media, including electronic publication, and for ensuring that the appropriate acknowledgements are included.
- 9 The Editors endeavour to provide a decision on contributions within three months, and thereafter to publish those accepted within eighteen months. They reserve the right to change publication date at short notice, owing to space constraints and the need to achieve balance of content.
