

Cambridge Opera Journal

Editors

Stefanie Tcharos, University of California, Santa Barbara, USA

Benjamin Walton, University of Cambridge, UK

For over twenty years the Cambridge Opera Journal has been the pre-eminent forum for scholarship on opera in all its manifestations. The Journal publishes essays not only on all aspects of the European operatic tradition, but also on American opera and musical theatre, on non-Western music theatres, on contemporary opera production, and on the theory and historiography of opera. Carefully researched and often illustrated with music examples and pictures, articles adopt a wide spectrum of critical approaches. As well as major articles, each issue includes reviews of recent important publications in the field.

MA Performance and Culture: Interdisciplinary Perspectives

Goldsmiths, University of London

1 year full-time or 2 years part-time

This pioneering Masters, led by Professor Maria Shevtsova, offers you the opportunity to explore interdisciplinary perspectives on international performance in relation to diverse cultures. Incorporating various modes of enquiry, it will lead you to examine performance principles from sociology, the sociology of culture, cultural theory, anthropology, history, philosophy, politics, and theatre and performance.

The MA takes in diverse forms of theatre, including:

- Ensemble theatre
- Mixed media theatre
- Ritual and song theatre
- Dance

This programme provides an excellent foundation for further academic, creative, and curatorial work in the field.
