

SESSION 3: Spectral energy distribution models

A review of spectral energy distribution modeling at high-redshift

Stéphane Charlot

Institut d'Astrophysique de Paris, France

Abstract. I will review recent developments in the modeling of high-redshift galaxy spectra, focusing in particular on the rest-frame ultraviolet and optical emission from young stellar populations and the interstellar medium.
