Regulatory Reform in Advanced Industrial Countries

STEVEN K. VOGEL

New in paper! Winner of the Masayoshi Ohira Memorial Prize, given by the Masayoshi Ohira Memorial Foundation "There is growing acceptance of the claim that international market forces have been compelling reluctant governments to deregulate, liberalize, and privatize ever more segments of their domestic economies. . . . Steven Vogel's refreshing book presents a compelling political challenge to such oversimplifications."

The Myth of the Powerless State

LINDA WEISS

"Linda Weiss's careful dissections of economic policies and performance in Japan and East Asia, Sweden, Germany, Britain and the United States demolish most conventional generalizations deriving from neo-liberal, 'globalization' or social democratic theories alike."—Michael Mann, University of California, Los Angeles. $45.00 cloth, $17.95 paper

The Nordic States and European Unity

CHRISTINE
INGEBRITSEN

Christine Ingebritsen provides a timely analysis of Nordic economic and security policies in the wake of the vast transformation of regional politics between 1985 and 1995. This book addresses two central questions: Why did all five Nordic states trade autonomy for integration after 1985? And why do some follow the British pattern, resisting supranationalism, while others prefer the German strategy of embedding their policies in a common European project? CORNELL STUDIES IN POLITICAL ECONOMY. 7 maps, 2 graphs, 1 drawing. $29.95

The Geography of Money

BENJAMIN J. COHEN

"Benjamin J. Cohen shows how the widespread use of the U.S. dollar outside its borders, the push for a common European currency, and growing cross-border competition worldwide require a new consideration of 'the role that money plays in today's world.'"—Booklist

Booty Capitalism

The Politics of Banking in the Philippines

PAUL D.
HUTCHCROFT

In the early postwar years, the Philippines seemed poised for long-term economic success, yet the country has been unable to convert its substantial developmental assets into developmental success. Even with the major reforms of the mid-1990s, economic gains remain relatively modest and short-lived. In this book, Paul D. Hutchcroft addresses the political obstacles to Philippine development. 7 photos, 5 tables. $39.95

GAMES BUSINESSES PLAY

Cases and Models

Pankaj Ghemawat

"This is the best kind of advertisement for game theory. Lively, provocative and challenging, it offers a fresh approach to a fascinating array of problems in business strategy." — John Sutton, London School of Economics

"Ghemawat's book draws on evidence from case studies to illuminate a variety of game-theoretic models of competition. The book makes a significant intellectual contribution which will be appreciated by IO economists with an interest in business strategy, as well as by a broader audience." — Marvin B. Lieberman, UCLA

240 pp., 25 illus. $27

SOURCES OF POWER

How People Make Decisions

Gary Klein

This book is based on observations of humans acting under such real-life constraints as time pressure, high stakes, personal responsibility, and shifting conditions, presenting an overview of the research approach of naturalistic decision making and expanding our knowledge of the strengths people bring to difficult tasks.

ECO-EFFICIENCY

The Business Link to Sustainable Development

Livio D. DeSimone and Frank Popoff, with the World Business Council for Sustainable Development

SHADOWS IN THE FOREST

Japan and the Politics of Timber in Southeast Asia

Peter Dauvergne

Explores the role of Japanese trade, direct investment, and "development assistance" in the rapid deforestation of Indonesia, East Malaysia, and the Philippines; and develops the intriguing idea of a "shadow ecology" to help understand the effect that one country's trade and financial practices can have on resource management in another country.
